Sweeping Victory For C.C.F. Party In Saskatchewan

Rev. T. C. Douglas Will Head First Government of Its Kind in Dominion

REGINA, June 15 (CP).—The C.C.F. movement, Western-born and fostered on the Prairies, today won its first victory as a general election and will form the province's first C.C.F. government.

A factor in Saskatchewan elections for the past decade, the C.C.F. boomed to victory over its Liberal and Progressive Conservative opponents without the issue ever being in doubt.

T. C. Douglas, 40, the C.C.F. provincial leader who left his seat in the House of Commons in May to lead his party in the election, was elected in his own constituency of Weyburn.

Premier W. J. Patterson, Liberal Premier for the past nine years, had a narrow majority in Cannington when the count was completed. Whether he will take a seat in the Legislature again will depend on the vote by men and women in the services outside Saskatchewan, which will be counted on June 19.

R. D. Ramsay, Progressive Conservative leader, failed in his bid for election in Saskatoon City.

The "soldier vote" will be distributed to candidates in the various home constituencies, and with several thousand votes in the services within Saskatchewan, these ballots may cause changes.

Election officials said the majorities piled up by elected candidates indicated the Saskatchewan soldier vote would not be as important as a factor as had been expected.

Major J. M. Cuthbert, elected without poll-clerk, also will watch the soldiers' vote with intense interest. When the count was practically completed his C.C.F. opponent, Dr. H. E. Read had a narrow lead. Major Cuthbert has been on active service since early in the war.

C.C.F. candidates were elected in the three-to-member constituencies — Regina, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw—taking former Liberal seats in each case.

Four Cabinet ministers have been defeated: J. W. Estey, Attorney-General; J. C. Taggart, Minister of Agriculture; Hubert Staines, Minister of Education, and F. J. G. Parker, Minister of Municipal Affairs. A. E. Procter, Minister of Highways, was re-elected.

Major Cleeve Williams, former C.C.F. provincial leader, was re-elected. The Liberals did not name a candidate in the riding of Wadena.

The C.C.F. with 10 members, was

LONDON, June 15—The enemy is showing himself particularly anxious to delay our progress on the flanks of the Normandy beachhead, and most of all by the progress toward Cherbourg.

He must realize the danger that before he is able or willing to launch a full-scale counter-offensive the Allies should have an improved their position so as to make such an offensive unlikely to succeed.

Possession of Cherbourg would greatly contribute toward this reaching such a situation, says The Times military correspondent. The Allies may be pushed through every inch down its inner side some time yet before the Peninsula and reduce the town.

Heavy fighting continues all along the Caen front, where already the British promise salvage the River Orne has spanned the strangulous at Caen, which the Germans are desperately trying to cover with the Tiel Panzer Division. This belt flank un-

Mammoth New Super-Bombers Smash At Japan; Tokio Reported Hard Hit

Starts New Phase Of War in Pacific

WASHINGTON, June 15 (CP).—War Secretary Stimson said today that the air attack on Japan is the beginning of another phase of the war in the Pacific and that no corner of the Japanese homeland "is now safe from attack."

Another Nazi Line Broken

Allies Take Three Large Italian Towns

ROME, June 15 (Reuters)—Bursting through another line of defences 20 miles up by the retreating Germans beyond Rome, Allied forces have captured the large Italian towns of Orvieto, Viterbi and Narni and were fighting tonight in the outskirts of the important industrial and communications centre of Terni, 45 miles north of the capital.

British Eighth Army columns fought their way into Orvieto, 50 miles northeast of Rome, Narni, 41 miles due north of the capital and Aquila, 54 miles to the north east, above Avezzano. Lt.-Gen. Sir Oliver Leese's forces were checked temporarily on the outskirts of Terni by block to bridge and a stiff German counter-attack.

American troops abreast up the Tyrrhenian coast captured Magliano and Grosseto. Brigadi, only 8 miles from Orvieto, 75 miles from Rome, finally cleared highway 71 running east from the coast past the northern shore of Lake Bolsena.

Today's Allied communique reported more Allied thrusts beyond the Sabine River—just north of Poviers in the Adriatic sector. The Italian front from the Adriatic 17 miles northwest of Orvieto.

Great Armored Battle Of Attrition Grinds Ahead on East Wing

Strong German Counter-Attacks Repulsed By British-Canadian Forces in Normandy

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 15 (AP).—A great armored battle of attrition grinded ahead today on the eastern wing of the Allies' beachhead in Normandy, held by British and Canadian forces, and strong German counter-attacks were repulsed with what tonight's communique from Supreme Headquarters called "considerable loss to the enemy."

On the western end of the 100-mile front American troops slashing westward from Carentan on a ten-mile front have reached firm ground within six miles of La Haye du Puits, junction of the last German-held rail-highway lifeline to the port of Cherbourg, and within four and one-half miles of the secondary junction point of St. Sevear-Le-comte The communique said "steady progress" was made.

In the developing drive to cut off and capture the Cherbourg Peninsula, similar steady advances were reported for a few clearly-defined thrusts through the forests between the Vire and Elle Rivers southeast of Carentan.

The advance appeared to be aimed toward St Jean de Daye on the highway linking St. Lo and Carentan.

Extent of the gain was not disclosed officially, but it appeared probable that the road had been cut about five miles west of Lasay.

On the extreme right flank of the Allies' beachhead American capture of the coastal village of Quineville and surrounding territory was said to have provided a valuable new outlet from the beaches.

EXTENSIVE GAINS THERE EVERYWHERE

These were the principal gains in the second day of the great battle of France, which saw the offensive fall along the 100-mile line quiet force and either gain ground or repel repeated enemy counter-attacks.

A dispatch late tonight from William Stoneman, Canadian Press war correspondent with the Canadian 3rd Division, told of a quiet day on the Caen front, which covered by the troops he is with. He said that troops took advantage of the lull to catch up on mussed sleep and repaired the battered exterior of one building being used as a shell to sun bath

Cunningham-Reid (Conservative, Eastbourne) for recommending today for suggesting the suppression Allied Commander Gen. Eisenhower could have been "darned if anything that happening to Prime Minister Churchill on his visit to the Normandy beachhead on Monday.

Cunningham-Reid had said:

"In the circumstances it would be for who would be to blame for allowing the Prime Minister to have gone out on France. The Supreme Commander is an American. If such a thing had occurred or if obliteration such a thing could occur" would be to the advantage of friendly relations between the two nations".

The Information Minister replied that Churchill's visit to France "came forward in a greasy way to the Allies and to those friendly relations between the two countries. The quick association is the swollen river Lifting Basin. He has no quality to make such a suggestion. Any suggestion that there is any difference between England and the United States—none whatever."

Cunningham-Reid appealed for a promise that the Prime Minister would not return to danger zones.

Bracken replied: "I think it a good thing that every Prime Minister should go into the front line.

"Nothing and here I can only make me take the unpleasant risk of going to promise that the Prime Minister not to take risks

Bombers in Night Raid On Europe

Spectacular Sequel To Great Day Attack

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 16 (Friday) (AP).—Continuing the around-the-clock aerial punishment of Nazi targets in France, a tremendous force of R.A.F. bombers thundered across the channel during the night in a spectacular sequel to widespread daylight operations in which 1,000 planes including 1,500 United States heavy bombers, took part.

Later it was announced that the night bombers were over enemy occupied territory and that a force of Mosquitos had raided targets in Holland.

The R.A.F. armada making the latest assault on the German invasion defences was so large it took an hour and a half to pass across England's southern coast. The loss of engines was as great as on Wednesday's great attack of R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. planes delivered the heaviest aerial bombardment in history the town and scored best gains on the Caen front.

New Saskatchewan Cabinet To Include C.C.F. Veterans

REGINA, June 15 (CP)—Veterans of C.C.F. campaigning in the Western provinces probably will be included in the Provincial Cabinet to be formed by Rev. ... Provincial Leader, following the C.C.F. victory in the Saskatchewan election today. Mayor J. W. Corman, of Moose Jaw, a lawyer, was said to be a likely appointment as Attorney-General. Mayor C. C. Williams of Regina also is likely to obtain a Cabinet post, possibly that of Minister of Public Works.

Rev. T. C. Douglas

Maj. George Williams, former C.C.F. Provincial Leader, now on active service with the Canadian Army, may be appointed Minister without portfolio. Some other Cabinet office probably would be available for Maj. Williams, but his health has been indifferent since his return from overseas and he is expected to rest for a considerable period.

Mr. Douglas himself may assume the portfolio of Minister of Health. J. H. Brocklebank, a Tisdale constituency farmer and C.C.F. leader in the last Legislature, may become Minister of Resources.

Ald. C. M. Fines, long active in the C.C.F. movement in Regina and president of the C.C.F. provincial section, may receive the municipal affairs portfolio.

HAD EIGHT CABINET MINISTERS

Premier W. J. Patterson, head of the Liberal Administration since 1935, had eight Cabinet Ministers in his administration. He himself held the portfolios of Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Telephones and Telegraphs in addition to being President of the Council.

Mr. Douglas, Leader of the first C.C.F. Government ever elected, said in a statement following the election that the victory was "a victory for the people of Saskatchewan as a whole."

His statement follows:

"I am delighted at the outcome of the election. We do not take this as a personal triumph for the leadership or the C.C.F. membership. It is a victory for the people of Saskatchewan as a whole.

"There is, of course, a certain element of personal elation, but it is tempered by the great sense of responsibility at the undertaking which awaits us.

"The election victory was the result of team work and co-operation on the part of thousands of workers, and I want to thank them for their hard work. The same co-operation will be necessary to attack the economic and social problems that will face us as a government.

"The election also is an indication of the feeling of Western people with respect to Federal Government ... of the agriculture policies of Hon. J. G. Gardiner (Federal Minister of Agriculture), the manpower policies of the Dominion and the failure to make provision for postwar reconstruction."

NEW PREMIER A BAPTIST MINISTER

A Baptist minister who entered the political field in 1934, Rev. Thomas Clement Douglas was chosen provincial party leader of the C.C.F. in Saskatchewan two years ago.

He had been a member of the Dominion Parliament, representing Weyburn, Sask., for nine years when the provincial election was called. He resigned his Federal seat, and returned home immediately to conduct his party's campaign.

A forceful speaker, Mr. Douglas has been one of the chief critics of the Governments in Ottawa and Saskatchewan, demanding a changed economic order not only for industry but for agriculture.

Mr. Douglas, Scottish born, came to Canada at the age of six. He was born at Falkirk, Scotland, 40 years ago. He was educated at Brandon College and McMaster University.

He made his first bid for election in the 1934 Saskatchewan general election, but was defeated. He was a Farmer-Labor group candidate. The next year he was elected C.C.F. Member of Parliament in the Federal general elections.

Mr. Douglas' home is at Weyburn. He is married and has one daughter.

As he was diving after this victory a third Me 109 cut across his path and Banford poured bullets into him as he followed him down. He watched the German hit the ground. Banford pulled out of his dive almost at ground level with his Spitfire going more than 400 miles an hour.

TORPEDO BOATS DAMAGE CONVOY

A BRITISH PORT, June 15 (CP)—A newly-formed Canadian motor torpedo boat flotilla in its first encounter with the enemy severely damaged a German convoy in a 10-minute action off the French coast. There were a few minor Canadian casualties and some damage to two MTBs.

The MTBs slipped into the outer ring of escort craft before the Germans made contact.

The leading Canadian vessel carrying the flotilla leader Lt. Cmdr. J. R. H. Kirkpatrick, DSC, RCNVR, Kitchener, Ont., silenced the first enemy ship with gunfire. A second was silenced by a blaze of fire from a boat commanded by Lt. Bert Morrow, Vancouver, who received minor shrapnel wounds in the left arm.

Before withdrawing under cover of a smoke screen, a MTB commanded by Lt. Oliver Mabee, fired torpedoes into the heart of the convoy. The results were indiscernible.

Ottawa Not Surprised by C.C.F. Victory

OTTAWA, June 15 (CP)—The C.C.F. victory in Saskatchewan tonight caused no great surprise in political circles in the capital.

Members of Dominion political parties generally were prepared for a turnover in government. A few Saskatchewan members who took part in the campaign returned to Ottawa today with fairly accurate predictions.

There was no immediate comment from Liberal and Progressive Conservative quarters, but Stanley Knowles, acting C.C.F. House leader, said the Federal C.C.F. group of ... was "delighted."

"The result is a tribute to the people of the province," he said. "The new C.C.F. Government will be a people's Government in the fullest sense for it has been elected as the result of strenuous effort and keen interest in their own affairs on the part of many thousands of people."

WINNIPEG, June 15 (CP)—Premier Stuart S. Garson of Manitoba, commenting on the C.C.F. victory in the Saskatchewan general election, stated: "With the former Government of Saskatchewan we have had for many years the most happy neighborly and congenial relations. Therefore on personal grounds alone we cannot help regretting their departure from office.

"Now that the people of Saskatchewan have exercised their democratic right of choosing a new government it becomes the duty of other Governments in Canada to co-operate with the new Government in advancing Canada's progress and prosperity. That is the course that Manitoba will naturally follow.

"We are confident that under the new Government there will be continuance of the congenial and neighborly relations which have always heretofore prevailed between our two provinces."

EXCEEDS EXPECTATIONS

REGINA, June 15 (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. national leader, said in a statement tonight that the C.C.F. victory in the provincial election had exceeded all his expectations.

He said: "The result of the Saskatchewan election exceeded all our expectations. It is a people's victory in the truest sense.

"Our workers throughout the constituencies were volunteers. This made up for any lack of money we may have felt. We believe that this is a prelude to a victory in the Federal field where alone the great national problems must be dealt with. Our success today rests on a firm basis of political and economic education.

"We look forward to the future with confidence."

REGINA, June 15 (CP)—E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario C.C.F. leader, said in a statement tonight that the C.C.F. victory in the Saskatchewan provincial election was "a triumph of a people's movement over the ... of machine politics and the ... money."

"It is a ... of the shape of things to come," he said.

SASKATOON, June 15 (CP)—Rupert D. Ramsay, Saskatchewan leader of the Progressive Conservative party, said tonight that with the C.C.F. victory in the provincial general election "the province starts a new chapter in its history. Great problems lie ahead and we must face them as a people without allowing ... present factors of disunity to deter us from building a united Canada.

"The Progressive Conservative party is pleased at the large vote cast by the people of Saskatchewan. The people have spoken and we are satisfied with the majority decision," he said.

"The Progressive Conservative party stands as a movement. Although defeated at this election we propose proceeding in our endeavor to stand for those principles which history has shown to be for the good of the people. We congratulate the C.C.F. and appreciate the cleanness of the campaign which has been carried on in Saskatchewan. We wish them success in meeting the manifold problems that lie ahead of them in the administration of the Government of Saskatchewan."

Despite great difficulties of movement imposed by Allied air attacks the enemy is bringing up reinforcements to close the hilly country of the Villers Bocage sector, where his comparative thinness on the ground has been steadily exploited by our deep thrusts south.

Before nightfall Tuesday he had put in a full-scale attack with newly-arrived armored formations to meet the swinging right hook whereby the British armored column had reached Villers Bocage and the high ground above it. It was the first of Rommel's moves in the centre that looked anything like a full counter-attack, and it was heavily repulsed.

Saturday, the first day of the attack wiped out almost all of the enemy air force based in the Southern Marianas.

In invading Saipan, Vice-Admiral Richard Kelly Turner's force vaulted far beyond Truk, major enemy base in the Central Caroline Islands. When a firm hold is established on Saipan, it will place American forces 675 miles in the rear (west) of Truk. Guam, southernmost of the Marianas, also would be outflanked.

The operation was believed to be the most spectacular of the Pacific war due to the major use of rocket-firing planes and ships.

Saipan is the second largest island in the 500-mile-long Marianas chain. Westward lies a clear ocean sweep to the Philippines, Formosa and the China coast.

ADVANCE IN SPITE OF ARTILLERY FIRE

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—American forces invading Saipan Island in the Marianas have obtained beachheads and are continuing inland despite artillery fire and enemy tanks, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced tonight.

"In general fighting is heavy but good progress is being made against well-organized defences," Nimitz said.

"Virtually all heavy coastal and anti-aircraft batteries on the island were knocked out by naval gunfire and bombing. Our troops have captured Agingan Point. In the town of Charan Kanoa brisk fighting is continuing.

"The enemy has attempted several counter attacks with tanks. These attacks have been broken up by our troops with the support of ships and aircraft."

Agingan Point is on the southwestern tip of the island. Charan Kanoa is one of the few sizable communities on the island.

The assault of Saipan, Japanese air and naval base, was launched Wednesday morning after intensive preparatory bombing and bombardment of it and neighboring Japanese defence points.

Night Raid

night flashes and explosions in the direction of Boulogne indicated that another vital Nazi port on the French coast was getting a blasting.

Squadrons of R.A.F. fighters were believed to have escorted the bombers, for they began circling over the southeast coast shortly before the heavyweights started out. Some of the bombers came back within a short time after apparently hitting the French coast. Others were believed to have struck deeper.

Weather in the Straits of Dover was not good. A wind was blowing up with heavy clouds prevalent.

GREATEST BOMB LOAD EVER

After the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. dropped 5,000 tons of explosives on Wednesday night, the greatest bomb weight ever unloaded in a single night, a near record force of more than 1,300 American heavy bombers plastered the German transport and air defences yesterday while tactical units of the Allied air force tightened support of the invasion armies with assaults on enemy installations in Normandy.

The night assault began just before darkness with a blow by R.A.F. heavies against the big port of Le Havre and nests of E-boats which have been attacking Allied invasion vessels. R.A.F. Mosquitos struck the German oil centre of Gelsenkirchen. Canadian bombers formed the entire force which hit St. Pol and Cambrai in Northern France, and R.A.F. planes hit Douai and enemy troop concentrations at Evrecy and Aunay-sur-Odon, ... and 18 miles respectively from Caen in the Normandy battle area.

These operations cost five bombers, two of them from the Canadian force, which represented every squadron in the Canadian bomber group. Included in the Canadian raiders were the Leaside, Iroquois, Thunderbird, Moose, Tiger and Ghost squadrons, the latter using Canadian-built Lancasters.

The R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. using 1,100 bombers made seven attacks spread over five hours.

At Le Havre, hit in the R.A.F.'s ... daylight blow of the war and the first since 1942, many ... factory-buster bombs exploded on the targets ... tidal waves in the harbor. A second hit attack was made on Le Havre early this morning.

Blockbusters were seen bursting on the eight-foot thick concrete pens and ... crews ... boat blown clear out of the water by the explosion of the R.A.F. super bomb.

Five minutes after the attack started there was a tremendous explosion and black smoke billowed up to 10,000 feet.

F.O. Jim Kinnear of Vancouver summed up the Cambrai attack by saying: "What we went there to hit we could hit for fair because hundreds of flares revealed the ground detail."

By daylight a great fleet of American heavy bombers under escort of nearly 750 fighters attacked plane assembly plants, airfields, railroad bridges and rail junctions as far behind the Normandy battle zone as Bordeaux, 300 miles to the south, in their deepest penetration of France since the invasion started.

R.A.F. Coastal Command Beaufighters escorted by Polish Mustangs attacked an enemy shipping concentration including a large merchant vessel, a naval auxiliary, 10 minesweepers and seven E-boats off the Frisian Islands without loss.

The merchant vessel was sunk and the naval auxiliary beached. One minesweeper blew up and sank and another was hit by a torpedo. Five others were left on fire and two minesweepers and two R-boats were raked by cannon fire.

Three R.A.F. Spitfire squadrons tangled with about 40 German planes in one of the biggest aerial combats since the Battle of Normandy began and came out with an eight to one victory.

These victories brought to ... the number of enemy planes reported downed.

Both the Vichy radio and Allied correspondents in the field predicted a heavy new British-Canadian attack in the Caen sector.

De Gaulle Leaves Instructions For Normandy Administration

LONDON June 15 (AP)—Gen De Gaulle announced today that he had left instructions for administration of French civilian affairs during his visit to the Normandy beachhead [illegible] the chief difficulty in British-American-French relations.

A communique issued through the French press service emphasizing the atmosphere of immense fervor with which it reported De Gaulle was received in Allied-liberated towns Wednesday said he gave directions "regarding resumption of civil administration organization of supplies and public relief."

The instructions apparently were a step toward eliminating rough spots in the bid of De Gaulle's French Committee of National Liberation for full recognition as the voice of France.

De Gaulle returned to England today.

[illegible] unique referred to him as president of the provisional Government of the French republic," a term which still lacks acknowledgment by Britain and the United States.

There was no clue as to the nature of De Gaulle's instructions, but it is unlikely such a trip would have been arranged in view of the military situation unless some degree of accord had been reached on De Gaulle's position [illegible] civil affairs.

The London press hailed the general's swift trip to the Normandy front with the expressed hope it would help solve the ticklish situation.

A London Standard editorial characterized [illegible] as widely welcomed on both sides of the Channel and said that whatever may be all the political differences still to be resolved the paramount need of the hour is that the military campaign should be assisted in every way possible."

The newspaper saw in the visit "recognition" by Gen Eisenhower of the importance of the Partisans' role in the battle for France, and commented it would have been "tragic if political differences in any way blighted the hopes of advantages to be secured for our cause now by full mobilization of the resistance movement."

The Evening News called the trip "timely," adding that "like the people of Normandy citizens of the rest of France want to hear the voice of a French leader—It is to be hoped that the diplomatic tangles and mysteries surrounding the relationship between Britain and America and De Gaulle be cleared up speedily."

De Gaulle's return to France yesterday, for the first time in four years, received a warm welcome from cheering crowds. No official disclosure of the length of his visit was made but the Brazzaville radio in French Equatorial Africa said he stayed only a few hours.

Judge Shandley allowed her claim for $62.50 damage to the car and awarded her $50 personal damages.

Frank Higgins K C acted for the plaintiff and A J Patton for the defendant.

Witness to Appear In Appeal Court

WINNIPEG, June 15 (CP) Mr Justice E A McPherson in Manitoba Court of Appeal today granted permission to defence counsel Sir Charles Tupper to call Margaret Reeves about 16 as a witness tomorrow in the appeal hearing of Albert Victor Westgate sentenced to death July 24.

Westgate, Winnipeg mechanic, was sentenced last May to hang at Headingly Jail for the strangle-slaying of 16-year-old Grace Edith Cook in a downtown Winnipeg hotel last December 4.

Miss Reeves is alleged to have seen Miss Cook in a downtown department store the afternoon of her death.

Appearance of a witness in a court of appeal is almost unprecedented in Manitoba it was stated during the opening session of the appeal. The five justices however, announced their desire to give the defence every opportunity in presenting arguments.

He said the organization had made marked progress during recent years, and new veterans were lining up with elder ones, thus making it possible to establish the Legion as one of the most powerful veterans organizations in Canada.

Rehabilitation committee of the Malahat Branch decided to continue discussion of matters affecting war veterans. The July meeting will be held at Cobble Hill.

Servicemen May Attend Meetings

OTTAWA, June 15 (CP)—Regulations governing the political activities of members of the Canadian armed forces have been broadened by an order in council published today in official war orders.

Under the new regulations provision is made for any member of the armed forces to get leave—depending on the exigencies of the service—to attend political conventions for provincial or Federal candidate or leader selection.

The order also provides that service personnel may wear uniform at political gatherings. However, only service members of Parliament, candidates or prospective candidates may address political meetings.

Formerly members could not wear their uniforms at political gatherings and servicemen, who were not members of Parliament, could not get leave to attend political conventions.

Leave was formerly granted to parliamentary servicemen to attend to their duties in Ottawa or in the Provincial Legislatures and leave up to a month was granted for them to attend to their political duties in their constituencies.

the strongest Opposition group in the Legislature at dissolution a month ago. The Liberals had 33 seats.

Voters went to the polls under sunny skies throughout most of the province. Those who had to splash through muddy side roads did not mind as moisture means crop success in a province harried by drought conditions when the last election was held in 1938.

Election officials said they anticipated the vote would be smaller than in 1938 as more than 100,000 voters have left the province for service with the forces or for work in war industry.

Candidates for the 51 seats in today's voting numbered 150, the largest group—51 being C C F with 50 Liberal and 39 Progressive Conservative. Ten Labor-Progressive Independent and Social Credit candidates all failed to obtain election.

Mr Douglas said in a statement following the vote that his Government would take office as soon as Mr Patterson decided when he would hand over the reins of office.

The new Government leader is a Baptist minister who entered the political field in 1934 and served in the Commons as member for Weyburn for nine years. In his university days he was an outstanding amateur boxer.

C C F supporters staged a vigorous celebration in Regina with crowds cheering as results were posted on a newspaper bulletin board and motorists blowing car horns. Alderman C M Fines president of the provincial C C F organization was carried shoulder high through the crowd. He was elected in Regina.

M J Coldwell national C C F leader and Mayor C C Williams also a successful candidate in Regina, walked at the head of a victory parade.

POLL 52.3 PER CENT OF VOTE

The C C F polled 52.3 per cent of the vote according to a preliminary compilation by The Canadian Press. The Liberal party polled 35.2 per cent and the Progressive Conservatives 11.8 per cent.

The popular vote compilation with almost one fifth of the province polls [illegible] to report indicated a probable total vote approximating 420,000. Total vote in the last Saskatchewan election in 1938 was 44[illegible],432, but in this election it was estimated about 100,000 voters were absent on military service or in war industries outside the province.

Candidates other than those of the three major parties polled approximately 1 per cent of the total vote.

Here is The Canadian Press complete compilation compared with the vote in the last two elections (members elected in brackets):

Man Who Guided The Canadian Press for 20 Years Passes

CLARKSON Ont June 15 (CP) — J. F. B Livesay, 69, credited by Canadian newspapermen with laying the foundation of co-operative news gathering in the Dominion [illegible] in the country. He retired five years ago after 20 years as general manager of the Canadian Press the daily newspapers' co-operative association.

He had worked hard yesterday in his English garden at Woodlot the little estate he carved out of the woods, and played a few hands of cribbage before going to bed. His death resulted from a heart condition which caused his retirement but did not prevent him from active gardening and writing.

He left incomplete a book of his newspaper reminiscences started in 1942. But he had recently written a number of newspaper articles, many of them on military matters of which he was a student. Shortly before his death he finished a book about Peggy's Cove, N.S., where for many years he holidayed in Summer. It is to be published in the Fall (The Ryerson Press) illustrated with the sea photographs for which Mr Livesay was widely known.

The funeral service will be held at St Peter's Anglican Church at nearby Erindale on Saturday afternoon.

Fred Livesay came to Canada at the age of 20, entered daily newspaper work at 28 and at his death was said by E. Norman Smith, of The Ottawa Journal, a former president of The Canadian Press, to have contributed to the national cohesion of Canada more than any one man of his generation.

The Canadian Press to which his vision and organizing genius contributed [illegible] much joined together the daily newspapers of Canada and made known to each other the people of the nine provinces. It pioneered in the non-partisan presentation of national news.

EDITOR OF FIRST SASKATCHEWAN DAILY

Born in 1875 in the Isle of Wight Mr Livesay wrote for English and Canadian periodicals during his early years in Canada when he worked as farmer and prospector. His first full-time newspaper job was with The Winnipeg Tribune in 1902 after a spell as a harvester in the West. In 1905 he became editor of The Regina Standard Saskatchewan's first daily.

In 1907, when The Western Associated Press was formed as the co-operative of the Western dailies, he was appointed manager. Ten years later the W A P merged with the three Eastern Canada news co-operatives formed in the intervening years to establish The Canadian Press as it is known today. Mr Livesay continued as Western division manager until 1920 when he was moved to Toronto as general manager.

Mr Livesay made The Canadian Press his life work. He was proud of the C P staff among whom he was affectionately known as "The Old Man" and especially interested in developing youthful talent. He [illegible] picturesque phrase that their copy must be accurate and honest. He insisted on a high pride in Canada and a full knowledge of the position of the Empire in world affairs [illegible] war correspondent for The Canadian Press finishing the war in Mons on Armistice Day. He later put his experiences in a book 'Canada's Hundred Days.'

CARRIED VISION TO FRUITION

VANCOUVER, June 15 (CP)—M E. Nichols former president and now a director of The Canadian Press, paid tribute to J F B Livesay former general manager of the C P, who died today in Clarkson Ont.

Mr Nichols said: 'He combined the elements of vision and executive capacity. The affairs of The Canadian Press were to him a constant responsibility, exercised in a business which carries on with the clock and demands unceasing vigilance. Few were the hours of the day or the night that left to Fred Livesay freedom from care in the 20 years of his management of The Canadian Press.

"Names of the founders of The Canadian Press are mentioned from time to time in the affairs of the newspaper fraternity. The name of Fred Livesay is not listed as one of the founders. Strictly speaking he was not one of the founders. This may be truly said, that if the founders of The Canadian Press had the vision of co-operative news gathering in Canada, Fred Livesay was the outstanding power that carried the vision to fruition.

LAID FOUNDATION OF NEWS CO-OPERATIVE

LETHBRIDGE Alta June 15 (CP)—Senator W A Buchanan president of The Canadian Press paid tribute to J. F. B Livesay, former general manager of the C P, who died today at his home in Clarkston Ont., and said "It wouldn't be assuming too much to say that Fred B Livesay was the man who laid the foundation of co-operative news gathering in Canada."

Salvage Collection

A circular from Charles LeFerle national director of salvage states collections are still short of the 20,000-tons-a-month objective. Every small village and rural school should take part in a campaign to collect more waste. Scrap rubber tonnage on the other hand Mr LeFerle says was considered sufficient for 18 months to two years' supply. This was held by the Canadian Government purchasing agents and included stock in the hands of reclaimers.

Taking the Strain

Having described Caen as the hub of the situation, the Germans yesterday were expending considerable efforts to hold it, and to stop the Allies from closing the Cherbourg Peninsula in their faces. The main weight of the enemy's counter-attack appeared to be at Carentan and Caen, at the flanks of the Allied beachhead. Some ground changed hands, but so little that the Allies remained substantially in possession of the bulk of their conquests to date. Hard fighting flowed around Montebourg, Tilly sur Seulles, Caumont and Caen; the Germans recapturing the first-named village, but being surrounded on three sides immediately by the Allies.

From the invasion picture as a whole, it seemed clear that even yet the enemy is still waging a defensive fight, without committing any large proportion of his forces in the first phase of the Battle of Europe itself. Small but determined units of the enemy, backed in some instances by Tiger tanks, were trying to stem the Allied thrust on both flanks. No great effort has yet been made to attack our forces as such, and most of the battle yesterday resolved itself into a spirited fight for the two centres, Caen and Carentan, to the exclusion of much else.

Sea and Air Support

Two things are emerging clearly from the struggle on the tenth invasion day. The enemy has a healthy respect for the Allied air forces, and is giving them a wide berth, and our grip of the sea has so far baffled every German attempt to upset it. Therein lie two of the strongest factors in support of our troops upon the ground. Their supply lines are fully open, and air cover is with them day and night. Conversely the enemy is finding his rails and roads of indifferent value to him, and every massing of his troops draws a considerable volume of fire from the air.

By mortar and grenade the Germans were trying to stem an attack launched by coordinated arms of all descriptions, fearing apparently to put much mechanical equipment at risk in what perhaps has already been realized by the German High Command as a losing fight for the Cherbourg Peninsula. That is not to say that German tanks were not in action, because they were, but in comparatively small groups, and nowhere with the wild and abandoned prodigality that the same enemy showed up to last year on other major fronts. If it had to be said in one phrase, German resistance so far has been piecemeal, and depending largely on troops already in the invasion area.

Enemy Cautious

What will happen next will be seen in due course. It is not likely that the enemy will be able to close the breach in the Cherbourg Peninsula, or to stop the Allies from cutting off its tip together with the Atlantic port involved. The purely defensive attacks at Caen and Carentan are time serving devices, and hardly more nor, eventually, can they save the enemy enough time to retrieve his bad stumble at the outset of the invasion from the West.

Overmastering air power in Allied hands can wrest every counter gain from German hands before it is six hours old. It is partly in recognition of that that the Germans are stepping very gingerly indeed in the West today. They are beginning to learn what it means to lose the skies. The irony of that situation is one that must be appreciated fully by Marshal Goering, whose forces found in Rotterdam a very different case. Not many Iron Crosses will be awarded for the defence of the Cherbourg Peninsula where for once in this war the enemy knows his preparations were "too little, and too late".

C.C.F. Victory

While final returns in the Saskatchewan provincial election had yet to come, a clear C.C.F. majority over all parties in the new Legislature appeared beyond question. Early returns showed a decided swing to the Commonwealth group, C.C.F. candidates taking the first [illegible] seats conceded and leading in 29 others a few hours after the polls had closed. At the same hour, Premier W. J. Patterson, head of the Saskatchewan Liberal Government since 1935, was running slightly ahead in his own constituency of Cannington while several members of his Cabinet were in difficulties in their respective ridings. While the final count may rearrange some seats, a clear C.C.F. victory at the polls has been conceded.

This result has been predicted by most travelers coming through to the Coast within the last two weeks. They said that the C.C.F. candidates had concentrated their political fire upon the unpopular Mackenzie King Administration, suppressed the collectivist features of the C.C.F. programme and made effective headway with the voters through both courses. At no time particularly strong, the Patterson provincial regime apparently was not able to weather the handicap of its Federal supporters with the public in a definitely critical mood.

Whatever the exact causes, there can be no gainsaying the result. The C.C.F. has won a major political battle in taking the Saskatchewan general election, and the repercussions of that will undoubtedly be felt in Ottawa, where the Liberal Administration was said to be viewing this test as an indication of how blow the political winds across Canada. On this showing, there is not likely to be a Federal general election this year, even though many Liberals, inside and outside of the Ottawa scene, have been pressing for that.

It remains to be seen now what use the C.C.F. will make of its victory in Saskatchewan. The difference between being in power and under the necessity of acting, and out of power with free rein to criticize, is too well known to be labored. It may yet be a good thing for Canada that this test came as it did. Because nothing looks more rosy out of office, or more cumbersome and abortive in it, than a socialist programme such as the C.C.F. has sworn to uphold.

The negligible showing made by Progressive Conservatives in the election indicates the long and hard road that is still ahead of Mr. Bracken before he can lead his party to power in Canada. The Saskatchewan test clearly was between the Liberals and the C.C.F., and the C.C.F. won beyond all question or debate. What will come next may be quite as embarrassing to the C.C.F. nationally as it must already have proved to the Liberal administration that has gone down to defeat. The final count can hardly effect any significant changes in the party standing as reported late last evening. That showed 43 C.C.F. seats certain out of 52 in the Saskatchewan House. It was a decisive vote.

What Price Planning?

There are disturbing reports from the City Hall that the lands and zoning committee has now recommended the sale of waterfront property between the Imperial Oil station and the Black Ball ferry docks for one dollar, for the purpose of constructing a $30,000 building there for welfare or other use. We are not denying for a moment the need of the institution, but we say that that is not the place for it. If there is one site in town that should be preserved for major construction of a permanent and suitable character it is the northwest end of the Causeway area.

Permitting industrial use there in the first place was a mistake, as residents know. To the south is the massive pile of the British Columbia Legislative Buildings. To the east is the Empress Hotel, and the main harbor front. On the north should be some edifice that would fit in with the character of that distinctive setting and sufficiently large to round out the imposing harbor front for all time to come. Many had hoped that the Dominion Government would one day construct its new Postoffice there incorporating all Federal agencies now in the city.

No matter how worthy its purpose to set a small building down among such $2,000,000 neighbors would prove much out of keeping, both with the scene and also with the great possibilities of the site itself. The city, surely, has other lots that would do adequately for a welfare institution. The Causeway is Victoria's front window. Perpetual care should be taken to see that nothing is done to spoil it for the future.

We had hoped that the existence of a zoning and planning committee would protect Victoria from this very thing, opportunism of the moment in the face of a lifelong necessity to build with due care. Apparently there is considerable room yet for further study and thought on the matter. Victoria's harbor front is unique in all Canada. It must be preserved. We trust that the City Council will yet reject this proposal upon maturer consideration. It does not fit.

Beacon Hill Park

I came upon it first in January,
When, hand in hand, we went for our first walk
Since my arrival here. The park lay close.
The grass was green, the sea was calm and friendly.
The mountains 'cross the channel lost in mist.
Back East, the snow lay white and crisp and frosty—
We seemed so far removed from all that now
Another cliff came to my mind, in Devon
So like in peace, though strangely changed in war.

Then climbed we to the heights and saw the city
Reminder of the Lookout on Mount Royal
A city fair to look upon. "Some day
I shall explore its streets, and know its people."
And homeward in the darkening wintry twilight
But paused awhile to gaze upon a pillar—
Memorial simple to the peasant poet
Wrought with his kinsmen's attribute to greatness
To Burns the bard, and to his Highland Mary.
We read in silence, while our hearts responded
Each to each, and to th' immortal words.

A lifetime passed in that first walk together
So many links with what had gone and yet,
The throb of new horizons beat before us
This was our life, our future. Here we stood
We two alone, an unknown world awaiting.
Two souls new-joined, our only guardian Love,
And kindly Nature beckoning ever onward.

When next we came, we saw the dying roses
The brilliant plumage of the caged birds,
Set midst the giant timbers towering skyward
The white bear's domicile—though it still slumbered,
The swans, the ducks, the bridge so quaintly set.

And daily were we wont to climb the hilltop
To watch the sun setting across the harbor,
Behind the hills that lined it while a ship
Slid by below a train of smoke and seagulls
Sometimes the mountains peered from cloudy cover
And glistened in their blue-white snowy coats.

Later came blossoms—leaf and bud and flower,
Color and glamour—then more people, too
The old to feel the wealth of Nature's beauty,
The young to see and hear its vibrant life
The peacock's cry rang through the forest shrilly
The white bear wakened and came out to view
Ducklings sailed the pond with vigilant mother
The winter green of grass and firs and holly,
Itself a verdant background, now took lustre
From broom and gorse in glowing yellow touches.

Each day a fresh unfolding, a new picture
Enhanced the aid—always a joy to come
We never tired of this, our dearest pleasure,
And simplest, too, a walk into the park.

On the Record—

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

SECRECY IN WAR MANOEUVRES

Some 19,000 people, we are told, knew the approximate invasion date. Yet the enemy was surprised [illegible] manded for letting the cat out of the bag. Maj.-Gen. Henry J. F. Miller, former commanding general of the United States Ninth Air Force Service Command, accused of saying at a cocktail party that "on his honor" we would invade before June 15. He has been demoted.

Actually, when a great operation is being prepared, the greatest security lies in confusion. Unless the enemy obtains direct information from a trusted agent, statements made in public may confuse the enemy rather than inform him, for he cannot know what is a slip of the tongue, and what is a definite plant. Mr. Churchill himself promised in a speech, "there will be many deceptions."

There has been no major operation in which one or another person has not made the correct forecast. Scores have predicted that we would invade before June 15. "Invasion weather" had been discussed in the press. Leading military authorities, including General Eisenhower, have predicted European victory in 1944, which obviously meant invasion early this Summer. Since, in war, everybody distrusts what he hears, the exact truth may be more deceptive than a lie.

Once during this war I was the recipient of prime information. It was in the Spring of 1940. As a neutral in a neutral country I was accosted in the lobby of a hotel by a German who identified himself as someone I had met years before. In the manner of an Oppenheimer plot he sought a few minutes alone with me, and asked me whether I was proceeding to Paris. I said yes, and he then said, "Tell the French authorities that the Germans will invade in May, before the 15th, and simultaneously through Holland and Belgium." He said he believed I could be trusted, and he hoped the Nazis would be licked.

It is impossible to convey why I believed that he was telling the truth. He was a person who might have known. There were obvious reasons why he could not safely convey it through an Allied embassy. The measure of my credulity was based upon his expression, the manner of telling, the strain he seemed under as though engaged in an internal struggle. Yet what government would believe that kind of information? I conveyed it—and it was received, naturally, with an amused smile. For if the Germans were not going to attack through Holland, what could be more reasonable than to plant, with an independent journalist, the impression that they were? At that time in a phase of the "phony" war, they were apparently trying to force a negotiated peace by dire threats.

Our landing in North Africa was known to many, yet it came as a surprise. The reasons were again the same—the war of nerves and confusion. In the case of the German attack on Russia the facts are notorious. Early in May, 1941, Professor Karl Bomer, then head of the foreign press department of the German propaganda ministry told a number of people at a cocktail party attended by foreigners, among them a member of the Bulgarian embassy, that Hitler was going to attack Russia in June. The information substantiated what Anglo-American agents had already reported. But apparently the Russians were the most incredulous. The attack was a surprise.

That did not help Professor Bomer. He was fired that same May, sentenced to two years imprisonment, released early in 1942, sent to the Russian front as a private and killed. Yet the mere fact of his being fired, in advance of the attack, an action amounting to confirmation of his revelation, probably was interpreted in just the opposite way.

The case of Joan Ellis and her teletype "mistake" raises immense speculations. Was it really an innocent error? A false alarm might also be deception. Yet at the time she made it, our men must have been aboard the ships.

I am not writing in defence of General Miller. His is a disciplinary case. Loose talk can cost lives. But what appears to be loose talk may be clever deception, which mixed up with genuine loose talk confuses confusion.

In the final analysis every good observer, for whichever side, has to depend upon his eyes and brains—not on his ears, growing longer at cocktail parties.

Extracts from a letter written by a James Bay man now somewhere in Scotland: "There is never any discussion about politics here. I think the sentiment of the majority of the boys is to leave politics alone until the war is settled. [illegible] asylum and poorhouse, which I think is rather appropriate. The navy band is trying to outblow the hardy bagpipers, and is doing a smashing good job of it. Sport is beginning to flourish again after a remarkably mild Winter, although the weather here is the most fickle thing I ever came across. They certainly try hard to keep the men happy here. The food is good, and we see picture shows and E.N.S.A. shows nearly every evening. There are splendid sports facilities, but overcrowded conditions make a lot of us yearn for the sea again. I have recently started a lengthy commercial transaction to purchase a second-hand bicycle, a rare article, and the deal is slowly nearing completion. Several times I passed a rock in the Clyde, and was informed by a canny Scottish acquaintance that it was known as Dumbarton Rock. Go delving further into the matter, I was amazed to find it was the site of an ancient Roman naval base called Theodosia, from which Caesar set sail with a great fleet to conquer the western isles, but suffered a disastrous setback. Many of his descendants in the persons of Italian prisoners are now working on farms in the British Isles, some not far from the rock. I have also visited Largs, the spot from whence the last Viking invasion of Britain took place." . . . The weather man with his scientific instruments failed to predict rain on Tuesday and Wednesday. Last Monday one of our neighbors told us her corn was causing extreme discomfort, which meant rain was in the offing. She was right. . . War veterans' information centres are to be set up in every city, town and hamlet in the State of Washington to supervise and direct activities relative to retraining and re-employment of discharged members of the armed forces.

TINKERING?

Sir,—We have two young pre-school children normally very healthy youngsters. In the last week or so we have had them on the sick list, and on talking with other mothers with young children, find they have had the same experience we have had. We all have checked on what the children have been eating and can find nothing harmful, but wonder if it can be caused by the chlorinated water, as during a recent heat spell the kiddies drank more water.

As mothers, we all realize our children have to be protected, and if chlorinated water is to protect them in case of an invasion where the water supply might become contaminated we are I am sure willing that it should be done. However, I believe, as other mothers have thought, too, that the water is being tested with different strengths of chlorine with the object of finding the most suitable strength. If this has to be could we not be warned, and a method given us whereby we might purify the water for our kiddies drinking water, until the business is finished with.

Would some of your readers who know of a way to purify the water kindly write? It would be appreciated. We adults have felt the effects, too, but are better able to stand it than our kiddies.

OAK BAY RODEO

Sir,—It is of interest to all citizens of Greater Victoria what is done in any part of its residential area. The fact that the Victoria City Council had voted against having this rodeo show because of what is involved in the way of cruelty to the horses ought to have been a sufficient deterrent against having this show at any price.

Your correspondent, Florence Barr, quotes Section 542 of the Criminal Code, which section is meant to cover the particular kind of cruelty to animals which our City Council had in mind when it refused permission to the applicants to put on this show.

Do the citizens of Oak Bay really want to see this show? It is not the kind of co-operation which one would expect to see as between two neighboring municipalities, and we think furnishes strong evidence for the creation of a Greater Victoria municipality. By this action the Oak Bay Municipal Council negatives the action of the City Council and opens the door to a performance which has been ruled out on humanitarian grounds.

I suggest that the citizens of Oak Bay protest the action of their council, by way of petition to the Attorney-General, on the ground of cruelty to animals.

As a former resident of Oak Bay, I am willing to prepare such petition, and to arrange for its distribution, where it can be signed by citizens at large, because this is not a question simply for Oak Bay, but a matter of concern to all residents of Greater Victoria.

No cruelty is ever justified. Animals have rights no less than human beings. The power to control the works of creation carries a double responsibility—guardianship and decency. Without this, man usurps his God-given powers and has no claim to mercy.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Three More Wounded Serving in France

Two more Island men are reported wounded and another seriously wounded while serving with a well-known Victoria and Island battalion in France. They are Pte. R. A. (Bob) Robinson and Pte. Douglas C. Leask, wounded and Maj. G. T. MacEwan seriously wounded.

Word that Major MacEwan is a casualty was received yesterday by his wife at Duncan. She and their baby daughter live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Savage. Major MacEwan is a Mill Bay man.

Pte. Robinson, 23, was born in Victoria and was educated at Willows School. He enlisted in 1940 with his twin brother, J. E. Robinson. The twin later transferred to the R.C.C.S. and recently to the R.C.A.F., and is training at Edmonton. Their mother, Mrs. L. E. Robinson, lives at 123 Howe Street.

Pte. Douglas Leask, 22, suffered a bullet wound in the head according to a telegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Leask, 1128 Johnson Street. A member of the 2nd Canadian Scottish Pipe Band before the war, he enlisted with a Scottish regiment as a piper in September, 1939, and has been overseas two years.

To Demand Japs Be Sent to Islands

SPOKANE, Wash., June 15 (AP)—The Spokane Chronicle declared a resolution demanding that all Japanese in the United States be transported to islands such as the Gilberts and Marshalls and immediately placed under army or navy supervision, would be presented to the annual encampment of the Washington department, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The newspaper said a Tacoma post was sponsoring the measure, adding it also urged that if such action involved constitutional rights of American-born Japanese, Congress should pass a law permitting the drafting of such nationals for construction on the islands to establish "a colony for themselves after hostilities cease."

RESTRICT GERMAN TRAINS

LONDON, June 15 (CP-Reuters)—No long-distance trains will run on the German railway system on Sundays from June 18 according to a German broadcast yesterday. "This measure has been necessitated by the present pressure on the German railway," the broadcast said.

Threaten to Take Counter-Measures

LONDON, June 15 (CP)—French authorities in Algiers has warned that if the Germans shoot captured members of the homeland resistance movement, "the French Provisional Government (National Liberation Committee) will be forced to take all necessary counter-measures."

The nature of these counter-measures was not stated.

Field Marshal Von Rundstedt, German commander in the west, recently decreed that resisting Frenchmen be considered as franc tireurs—literally "free shooters" or guerrillas—and as such denied protection of the Hague Convention.

Increasing sabotage and in some cases, open revolt are reported to have followed issuance of Von Rundstedt's order.

The French Press Service in London said vital railway lines had been cut by underground fighters at several points behind the Normandy front.

French Undermining Nazis' Best Plans

MADRID, June 15 (AP)—Reports out of underground France asserted yesterday that a methodic persistent rising by the greater part of the French nation is undermining the Germans' best laid plans to hold the Allied invasion.

These advices, filtering through many points on the Franco-Spanish frontier and through diplomatic channels, said that guerrillas and the organized underground were actively leading the French in making trouble and yet more trouble for the Germans.

That the Germans recognized the danger was demonstrated by an order placing 11 departments in Central France and parts of four others under the same military rules as those prevailing in the Atlantic Wall zone.

Synod in Session

VANCOUVER, June 15 (CP)—Opening service of the 50th session of the Synod of the Anglican Diocese of New Westminster was held last night in Christ Church Cathedral here with 192 lay delegates, 73 clergy and a large group of the congregation in attendance.

A choir of 250 voices, from Anglican churches all over the city, preceded the processional of the clergy into the cathedral to open the session.

Rt. Rev. Sir Francis Heathcote, Anglican Bishop of New Westminster, followed the procession to give his charge to the synod.

Business sessions of the synod will begin with a Communion service in the cathedral tomorrow and will continue until Friday.

Delegates to the provincial and general synod will be elected as well as the executive committee of the Diocese of New Westminster.

According to Culbertson

Very often it is wise to open the bidding with one club as a prepared bid so that the future course of action will be smoother and safer. This, however, does not remotely excuse the sort of acrobatics indulged in by North in the following deal.

South could not make the five-heart contract, and indeed was lucky to go down only one trick. It was not so lucky however that his partner had seen fit to run out of a contract that would have been a lay-down as the cards lay.

There is too much of the backing and filling type of bidding perpetrated by North in this deal. In the first place, North had no opening bid of any description. Two and a half honor tricks do not constitute an opening unless the hand contains a good five card or longer suit. In the second place, since he did open the bidding, North might have realized that his partner would not have jumped all the way from two no trump to five clubs without taking into consideration the ever-present possibility that the club bid represented a short suit.

In other words an opening club bid itself carries an implied warning, and it scarcely should be necessary to repeat the warning at the five level. In this case as in so many others it not only was unnecessary but impossible so far as the safety of the combined hands was concerned.

Roosevelt Outlines Plans for Organization to Keep Peace

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP) — President Roosevelt called today for creation of a world organization of all "peace-loving" nations to maintain peace and security—backed by force if necessary.

"We are not thinking of a super-state with its own police force and other paraphernalia of coercive power," the President said, but added that member nations of the world organization would maintain adequate forces "for joint action when necessary."

For the mechanics of a peace-promoting organization Mr Roosevelt proposed in a statement

1. An international organization comprising all peace-loving nations.

2. A council, elected annually by these nations, to include the four major nations and "a suitable number of other nations."

(The big four are the United States, Britain, Russia and China.)

3. An international court of justice to deal primarily with disputes capable of settlement.

Mr Roosevelt emphasized that for the need for physical enforcement of war prevention the Government is seeking agreement with other nations to have their armed forces available for joint action.

The plan set forth in the President's statement will be the basis of conversations at a meeting to which Secretary Hull has invited Britain, Russia and China to send representatives.

Mr Roosevelt issued his statement after a conference with Secretary of State Hull, Undersecretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., and Dr Isaiah Bowman and Leo Pasvotsky, officials of the State Department who have been working on postwar planning.

"It is our thought," the President said in his statement, "that the organization (for international co-operation) would be a fully representative body with broad responsibilities for promoting and facilitating international co-operation."

The organization, he continued, "would provide for a council, elected annually by the fully representative body of all nations, which would include the four major nations and a suitable number of other nations. The council would concern itself with peaceful settlement of international disputes and with the prevention of threats to the peace or breaches of the peace."

Japan Raided

... crash land in China. Some fell into the hands of the Japanese, who announced they had executed eight of them.

With today's announcement the War Department disclosed some hitherto secret information about the B-29's and revealed the organization of the 20th Air Force as a roving, globe-circling command headed by Gen Arnold.

The plane has a wing span of 141.2 feet, is 98 feet long and 27 high. Performance details were withheld except that it "carries the greatest load faster, farther and higher than any other airplane in existence" and its speed compares favorably with that of the fastest fighter planes.

On the point of range Gen Arnold said some months ago that the "super fortress" would be capable of flying across the Atlantic and back non-stop.

Gen Marshall, United States Army chief of staff, explained in a statement that the "super fortresses" were placed under the centralized control of the joint chiefs of staff with a single commander, Gen Arnold acting as their agent in directing their bombing operations throughout the world.

"The planes will be treated as major task forces in the same manner as naval task forces are directed against specific objectives," he said.

TOKIO SAYS KYUSHU RAIDED

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Japanese Imperial Headquarters said in a broadcast communique tonight that about 20 B-29 and B-24 bombers from the "China area" had raided Northern Kyushu six hours before, the Federal Communications Commission reported.

The communique, contained in a Domei Agency broadcast from Tokio, said:

"Today, June 16, at about 2 a.m. from the China area, 30 B-29 (Super Fortresses) and B-24 (Liberators) planes raided the Northern Kyushu sector. Our Western air defence force immediately intercepted and repulsed them, shooting down several. Our losses were negligible."

An earlier Tokio broadcast, made just ahead of the communique, claimed that six of the American planes were shot down and named the city of Yawata, situated on a narrow strait across from the great Japanese naval base of Shimonoseki, as one of the principal targets.

The communique was broadcast in Romanized Japanese to occupied areas, the FCC said, while the Tokio radio's first statement came in an English language broadcast beamed to the United States. This broadcast said the raiders concentrated their attacks on industrial areas of Moji and Shimonoseki.

The broadcast declared that "the damages incurred on our side were negligible and of no military importance." It said that two or three fires were started in comparatively unimportant centres but that they were quickly extinguished.

Kyushu is the southernmost unit in the island group forming the Japanese homeland.

Quick and effective interception by the Japanese defence resulted in the shooting down of six of the attacking bombers, Tokio claimed, adding "Japanese pilots who engaged the raiders also disclosed that among the enemy planes shot down were the new B-29 super bombers."

The announcement was broadcast under the title "Latest developments of news of the world," the FCC reported.

The Japanese announcement said the raid "did not work according to the original plans of the enemy."

The Tokio broadcast came almost an hour after the announcement of the raid by the United States War Department in Washington.

Would Suppress Japanese Paper

VANCOUVER, June 15 (CP)—Demand for suppression of The New Canadian, a newspaper published by Japanese, crystallized today in a resolution asking city council to request the Dominion Government to investigate the necessity of continuing to allot a newsprint ration to the publication.

Ald George Buscombe said he will move the motion at council meeting June 16.

The June 10 issue of The New Canadian described Mayor Cornett as "blowing a Nazi tune."

In these days when the Government is pleading with people to save paper," he continued, "I can see why the war effort should be impeded by diverting newsprint to a Jap propaganda sheet. Its only purpose is to inflame the Japs themselves."

Village Folk Revive Old Meeting Custom

KILLINGWORTH, England (CP)—Here in this Northumbrian ... under the sign of the Plough Inn men are talking and arguing about postwar plans for Europe, housing and local government.

Such talk is common in village inns everywhere in England but in Killingworth they have revived the Moot, a 1000-year-old custom which died out after the end of the Anglo-Saxon period and the Domesday Book.

It all began three years ago when a voice with practical ideas broke into an argument: "Let's set aside a special night for this sort of thing. A sort of Village Parliament."

The innkeeper's wife was ... for and all the arrangements were made. Like many others, she had never heard of a Moot before, but readily agreed to it.

Today there's an average of 30 men per meeting. It has become one of the most discussed things in the country. It was first talked about in its own district. Then the county, then London. The Ministry of Labor issued a memorandum about it which was circulated all over Britain.

"A Moot is an informal Parliament of the men of the village," said the minister.

The idea ... old tradition and begin Moots throughout the country ... town, village and hamlet ... clubrooms and dance halls.

Fit for Occupancy

LONDON (BUP)—By the end of the year all bomb damaged houses in London and other parts of England will have been repaired sufficiently to be fit for occupancy, according to a recent statement by the Ministry of Health. More than 2,750,000 houses have received first aid treatment, including 1,250,000 houses in which extensive repairs and partial rebuilding were required.

The ministry announced that war damage claims amounting to £60,000,000 had been approved by the department. About 160,000 houses were totally destroyed by war bombing, but against that loss the ministry points out that 140,000 houses were nearing completion at the beginning of the war and have since been finished.

The secret of life is not to do what one likes to do but try to like what one has to do.

Beethoven Choral Presents Concert

The Beethoven Choral Club gave an excellent concert last night before an audience which filled the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium and showed generous appreciation of several outstanding numbers. Under the baton of Prof J. B. Hoffman, the negro spiritual, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," showed ... Thomas Crabbe, George Farmer and Thelma Gaetz took the solo lines of this number effectively. The last chorus, "When the Boys Come Home," was equally good, with the baritone voice of Mr Crabbe heard in the solo.

Kathleen Paulin's high notes in "The Jewel Song" from "Faust" were clear and consistent. She also sang a clever action song, "There Are Fairies at the Bottom of Our Garden." Misses Thelma Gaetz, soprano, and Evelyn McGonigle, mezzo, were very good in the difficult duet from "Aida." Miss Gaetz was again heard in "Pace, Pace," aria from "La Forza del Destino." Her sister, Miss Thira Gaetz, showed a powerful voice in the aria from "Der Freischutz," and her tones were good. Miss Thira also sang a duet, "Bird's Song at Eventide," with George Farmer with splendid effect.

Another excellent group was "O Mio Fernando," from "La Favorita," and the Cradle Song from "Caprice Viennois," rendered by Evelyn McGonigle in her fine mezzo-soprano voice. Thomas Crabbe and chorus were pleasing in "Open Road, Open Sky," and in the "Gypsy Baron" solo "Little Jack Horner" was another fine baritone solo by Mr Crabbe.

Miss K. Paulin sang the coloratura solo in an arrangement of "Tales From the Vienna Woods," rendered by the chorus. The entire chorus was also heard in "By the Bend of the River." Other numbers were "Deep River," beautifully done by Irene Byatt, contralto; Yiddish folk song, by Evelyn McGonigle; "Invitation to the Dance," by Miss Jeanne Heaslip, coloratura; "Spirit Flower," by Joan Speed; "The Valley of Laughter," by Mrs L. McDonald; "Homing," by W. Alexander; Mimi's song from "La Boheme," by Mrs J. Fraser; duet from "Hansel and Gretel," by A. J. Speed and Valdrada Speed, and "Morning," by Bydie Eilers. All were pupils of Prof Hoffman. Mr. C. C. Warn, the accompanist, was given a round of applause at the end of the concert.

Kootenay Top Price Changed

OTTAWA, June 15 (CP)—The Prices Board announced tonight that changes have been made in a new order governing price ceilings for strawberries to adjust the ceiling for late producing areas.

Zone No. 2 in the order, which originally included Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, has been extended to include Northern and Eastern Quebec, Northern Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and the Kootenay area of British Columbia.

In Zone 2 the ceiling price to wholesale distributors will be 27 cents a quart and 14 1-2 cents a pint up to June 24. After that date the price will drop to 22 cents a quart and 12 cents a pint, remaining at that level until July 15, when ceiling prices revert to those of the period before June 24.

The board's announcement said the changes were made to give the late producing districts the advantage of the normal price increase that takes place late in the season. The order applies only to sales of fresh fruit for market purposes and not to sales to processors.

Other than the redistribution of the late producing areas there are no changes for Zone 1, which takes in Southern Ontario and Southern Quebec, and Zone 3, which takes in those parts of Canada not included in Zones 1 and 2.

Wholesalers may sell on the basis of their cost any strawberries they may have on hand or in transit at the time of the price change so as to allow growers the ceiling prices right up to the date of price change.

Report New Landing

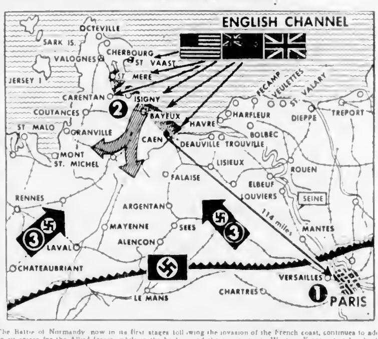
PORT DOU, Spain, June 15 (AP)—Border reports yesterday said the Allies were landing commandos and rangers, equipped with jeeps, light tanks and anti-tank guns, on airfields prepared by French Partisans deep within France.

The reports mentioned Plateau Millevaches, about 45 miles southeast of Limoges and about 80 southwest of Vichy, as one place where jeeps and light tanks had been put down.

(There is no Allied confirmation of these rumors.)

Religion deters not from lawful delights but teaches the moderate and regular use of them.

Allied Invasion Zone Widens in Normandy



The Battle of Normandy, now in its first stages following the invasion of the French coast, continues to add up successes for the Allied forces, while in the background the war arena in Western France stretches back from the coast about 100 miles, where the "Inland Atlantic Wall" of the enemy (1) is said to stretch through Le Mans to points above Paris. On the Cherbourg Peninsula (2), which the invaders seek to cut, and possibly drive on Cherbourg itself, the Allies have cut across main roads; continue to take more points near their beachheads, have captured Carentan and threaten Caen. Reconnaissance planes bring back reports that Germans are trying to rush supplies and men (3) toward the coast battle zone.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W BARTON, M.D.

THE TREATMENT OF ASTHMA

My early remembrance of asthma was observing the patient sitting near a window with his arms grasping sill or chair attempting to get his breath. I knew the attack would pass over and that asthmatic attacks were seldom fatal. There was no known cure.

Today physicians are not satisfied to relieve the attack by a hypodermic injection of epinephrin or adrenalin but in every case try to find the cause of the asthma. Fortunately the cause of asthma can be found in a large percentage of cases.

I have spoken before of a conference on asthma held at Cornell Medical College and reported in the New York State Journal of Medicine by Dr A A Cooke. At this conference it was agreed that the two known causes of asthma were allergy or sensitiveness to various substances such as furs, foods, feathers, dust, and infection—teeth, gum, tonsils, sinuses.

In cases of asthma caused by allergy tests are made to find the substance or substances causing the attacks and then avoiding these substances if possible or giving injections of these substances as in the case of pollen for hay fever. The treatment of asthma caused by infection is of course the removal of this infection at the starting place, then treatment with vaccines and the sulfa drugs.

In mild asthma relief is obtained by breathing in the fumes from a few drops of adrenalin 1 to 100 solution, not the 1 to 1000 solution which is injected under the skin. A tablet containing ... grain of ephedrine with a barbiturate drug is also used.

In severe asthmatic attack, injecting 10 to 15 drops of adrenalin 1 to 1000 or breathing in pure oxygen is usual treatment.

In children, treatment for asthmatic attacks is the old remedy syrup of ipecac ½ to 1 teaspoonful to cause vomiting. The vomiting is often more effective than coughing to bring up the plug of mucous from the small bronchial tubes.

Keeping down the amount of water in the tissues helps to relieve obstruction of the bronchial tubes. Dr Cooke advises that table salt be reduced in and on food as salt holds water in the tissues.

Troupers Entertain

Soldiers at two army camps in Victoria area were entertained on Wednesday night by Bonnie Ward's Troupers, who played to enthusiastic audiences at both centres.

Miss Ward was master of ceremonies and ... Owen Woodcock and Mrs ... were accompanists.

The performers were entertained by officers ... sergeants of one of the camps and more entertainment and dancing followed supper. The troupe has planned a benefit show and dance for Monday in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Cause of Wars Is Discussed

The belief that modern wars are the result of social revolutionary processes was expressed yesterday by J. V. Fisher, assistant deputy minister of finance for British Columbia, when he addressed members of the Lions Club in Spencer's dining- [illegible]

In his talk entitled "Needs of Tomorrow and Today," Mr. Fisher said "wars of this kind must break up and sweep away whatever is decadent in the structure of the old social order, and must lay the foundation of renewed and revitalized order.

"When we look to the years to come we must guard ourselves against their being shaped unduly on the pattern of the good old days," he added.

Referring to the two principal parties of Great Britain, Mr. Fisher said since the early 1920's, both labor and capital forces had been struggling, not for political rights, but for economic power.

"Yet throughout it all," he continued, "both capital and labor had a common interest in maintaining the profits of industry."

He explained the consumer was the actual victim of both organized labor and organized capital, and added that a reinterpretation in economic terms of equality and liberty was needed.

A new faith that would restore to the "little man" a sense of being a constituent member of the community was needed, that would devote itself to the solution of economic problems and would approach the problem of unemployment not by way of prevention but by the creation of need that would make a full call on resources.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"A NATION OF SHOPKEEPERS" Still at the Old Stand

It means England about which there is no question which is more than can be said for him who coined the characterization.

Used contemporaneously by many well-known late 18th century writers and statesmen this notion of our cousins across the sea may have been in circulation at that time or previously; certainly it would be hazardous to attribute its authority to a specific individual.

In a tract published in 1766 John Tucker, Dean of Gloucester, probably started rolling this ball of literary usage by writing:

What is true of a shopkeeper is true of a shopkeeping nation.

Nine years later, the economist Adam Smith wrote in his Wealth of Nations:

To found a great empire for the sole purpose of raising up a people of customers may at first sight appear a project fit only for a nation of shopkeepers.

On August 1, 1776 Samuel Adams in a speech presumed to have been delivered at the State House in Philadelphia made a similar reference.

From then on the woods became full of them.

"CIRCUS"

Personally we feel about the circus that [illegible] as handsome smells.

Annually [illegible] we have gone optimistic [illegible] a seed catalogue prayerful that [illegible] fear do [illegible] create the event.

Today circus is altogether different from its simple forbear.

We have the term from the Greek word meaning circle.

In Roman antiquity circus, which is straight Latin, connoted not only a ring but an oval area, enclosed with tiers rising upon tiers of seats from which spectators looked down upon exhibitions, usually athletic, of man and beast.

It is interesting to note the survival of the early significance of the word in such expressions as Oxford Circus, Regent Circus and others as the proper names for a circular range of houses in London.

Criticize Colonel And Contractor

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The colonel in charge and the German-born contractor on defenses at Pearl Harbor were criticized by the House of Representatives military committee yesterday for delays which the report said left the installations incomplete and the way open for the Japanese.

While the work fell behind, the committee said, Col. Theodore Wyman, Jr., of the Army Engineers accepted lavish entertainment from the contractor, Hans Wilhelm Rohl, in parties that involved liquor in the case and cheap commercial party girls.

It said the colonel was at Rohl's home in Hawaii when the Japanese struck Pearl Harbor, and that he rushed to his office in civilian clothes and in a drunken condition.

Rohl was naturalized in September and the Japanese hit Pearl Harbor in December.

Vancouver Claims Population Record

VANCOUVER, June 15 (CP)—Swollen by an influx of war workers from the Prairies and Eastern Canada, Vancouver has outstripped all other Canadian cities in wartime population increases.

Vancouver's population in September, 1943, was 345,123, compared with 308,930 in June, 1941, an increase of 36,193 persons according to figures released here by the Prices Board.

Figures are based on ration book distribution.

Montreal, Canada's largest city, came second with an increase of 29,127 new residents.

Urges Extend Free Spheres in Asia

NEW YORK, June 15 (CP)—Vice-President Henry Wallace in an article published here advocated postwar independence for Asia's subject and colonial people and said the United States should take "a positive progressive policy toward this area."

"While the British and Dutch Gov- [illegible] of National Liberation have given evidence that they recognize the need of revising their colonial policies in the direction of a larger measure of self-government there are also in these countries powerful forces which will fight for the old system of empire," Wallace declared in a pamphlet published by the American Council of the Institute of Pacific Relations and written before he left on his recent trip to China.

If the war ended tomorrow the vice-president said Asia would find itself divided into free and subject divisions.

"It is to our advantage," Wallace said, "not to perpetuate this division but to see an orderly process of transition, so that the area of free Asia will grow and the area of subject Asia constantly diminish."

Wallace held that the primary postwar objective toward Japan must be to keep her disarmed.

He suggested Japan should be occupied for a time but not indefinitely and that it should becom[e] [illegible] specializing in non-warlike pursuits of high technological skill.

What Today Means

GEMINI

If June 16 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10.15 a.m. to 12.15 p.m., from 2.15 to 4.15 p.m., and from 8.15 to 10.15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8.15 to 10.15 a.m., from 6.15 to 8.15 p.m. and from 10.15 p.m. until midnight.

Today what you say and how you say it will win you the good will and co-operation, or the resentment, of those with whom you are in close contact, so remember this. As you are apt to find it decidedly difficult to argue with any degree of calmness on this occasion, it will be advisable for you to go out of your way to avoid entering into any kind of a controversy. Your mental attitude [illegible] your results, so make it a point to entertain no thought that is unworthy of you, bearing in mind that "unthoughtlike thoughts are the souls of thought." Be careful that it is not the things that you fail to do, that will subject you to more criticism than those you have actually done, for oversight and carelessness apparently are two of the things that are going to involve many a person in troubles. Married, engaged, and courting couples, will do well to be governed by philosophy today, for after all "philosophy is nothing but discretion."

If a woman and June 16 is your birthday, you should make it a rule to say nothing while you are angry, for you are apt to say many things that you really do not mean but that leave some very unfortunate reactions nevertheless. You are apt to react instinctively to peoples' feelings and may have to be careful to conceal yours, if for any reason you do not want them to be known. Through your activity as a trained nurse, technician, dietician, political leader, organiser, florist, business manager, sales agent, demonstrator, interior decorator, writer, actress, singer, musician, artist, teacher, factory employee, or in some governmental branch of service, you ought to make an enviable record and reputation. Through the strict observation of your matrimonial obligations your married life should be replete with happiness.

The child born on June 16 is generally naturally graceful, very versatile, and has, as a rule, exceptional nimble feet and dexterous hands. A fondness for sports and social activities is often responsible for Gemini children having an unusual large number of friends and becoming very popular. Through their combining personality with ability Gemini's youngsters usually succeed in making their way successfully through life.

If a man and June 16 is your natal day you can be your own best friend or enemy according to the way you regulate your way of living. There are no limitations as to what you can accomplish if you will adhere to high standards and right principles. As a promoter, inventor, engineer, scientist, educator, manufacturer, business manager, salesman, journalist, author, clergyman, actor, painter, composer, physician, jurist, politician, merchant, financier or through your participation in this global war your future prospects appear to be unusually bright.

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE OELARUNTY

THE DAY'S ROUNDUP

The standings in the Saskatchewan election late last night and early this morning remind sports fans of the days when the New York Yankees used to run away with the American League pennant about the middle of August, the days when Joe McCarthy's crew were about 20 lengths in front and coasted home from then on. The C.C.F. Party finished in the straight position (to use a race track term) many lengths to spare with the Liberal entry away back in the stretch and the Progressive Conservatives still farther in the rear. It wasn't even a horse race from the time the polls opened until the last ballot was dropped into the box. What a shellacking the rest of the contenders took. . . . Fastball fans take notice. The boys under 15 and 17 leagues are going ahead in leaps and bounds, and the youngsters may thank two former stars of the game for helping in putting the divisions over. They are Eric Moir and Dal Munro, who played for years in senior company with the best of them. When Eric broke into the game, J.D. was his catcher and many a game we won by using a little strategy while Munro handled first base for the Jokers club in the old Westminster League and he knew his business around the initial corner. They are now turning their experience over to the kids, and it is too bad that several more ex-players don't turn around and do the same thing in their spare time. . . . Ball fans are beginning to worry about the plight of the Yankees in the flag chase. Don't worry too much, folks, for the New Yorkers will be teeing off against the Cardinals next October in the world series and don't say I didn't tell you so.

ODDS AND ENDS

Baseball officials announce that the Vancouver Arrows won't be over here on Dominion Day for the holiday double-header, as they are booked to play a twin bill on the Mainland that day. However efforts are now being made to have the Sand Point Navy nine from Washington State invade the city. If plans can be completed to have this squad of diamond experts appear here, Victorians will have the opportunity of watching none other than Freddie Hutchinson, former Seattle speedballer and late of the Detroit Tigers on the mound in one of the games. "Hutch" won most of his games while with the Skiffmen with his blazing fast ball so a person can just imagine how the local swatmen would be fanning the afternoon or evening air. Let's hope that the deal can be put through. . . . Crowds at the boxla games at Stevenson Memorial Park are getting larger and they are enjoying the youngsters grossing sticks and playing for keeps. One big drawback the kids are facing these evenings is that they have no place to strip for their games. It would be a good move on the part of the city parks board (I am always harping at them for some reason or other) to build a dressing-room on the grounds. It wouldn't cost much and would save the young fellows a lot of embarrassment and probably many chills and colds. If our chaps at the City Hall don't want to put the diamond at the Athletic Park into decent shape or help the fastballers out in the same manner, maybe you could come to the rescue of the boxla association and the kids who are giving their best two and three times a week. How about some action, Dune, old fellow? . . . Understand that Laurel Harney and another well-known local ball player will be performing for the Norvans against Bellingham on Dominion Day, maybe. If the V.M.O. is slated for a game here on the holiday that means that Harney will be playing at home. The other fellow I don't know who he is, but the chances are he will remain in Victoria also.

FROM HERE AND THERE

Recently Mel Harder chalked up his 200th victory in the major leagues and he will have several more before the long campaign ends. Glancing over records we find some noted hurlers of the past just missed the select group by "inches." Bullet Joe Bush turned in 194 victories during his career while Larry French, Al Orth, Dazzy Vance and Rube Waddell all had 187. Babe Adams, who toiled on the mound for the Pittsburgh Pirates for many years, turned in 194 and Adolfo Luque and Bob Shawkey, who managed the Yankees for a short time, chipped in with 195 before hanging up the sponge. . . . This scribbler had quite a talk with Shawkey, by the way, when Ty Cobb and his all-star big leaguers went through this port on their way to play a series of exhibition games in Japan. He was bossing the Yanks at the time and was one of those fellows a newspaperman had no trouble getting an interview from. . . . Remember when Jack Lovelock, slim New Zealander, outran the cream of United States runners in the "mile of the century" at Princeton just nine years ago today? The Oxford University runner easily defeated Bill Bonthron and Glen Cunningham, United States aces. A year later Lovelock won the Olympic Games 1,500-metre title at Berlin in convincing manner. . . . Did you know that Geordie James [illegible] Police officer, is now coaching the Owl Drug boxla team in the junior division and is doing a fine job with the youngsters? James hails from New Westminster and played with the Adanacs when that club won the British Columbia intermediate title a few years ago. . . . Local ball clubs shouldn't worry so much about the error column after glancing over the reports from the Coast and International leagues the other day. San Diego made eight miscues against San Francisco and Syracuse committed 11 in the second game with the Maple Leafs from Toronto and these teams are highly ranked in professional ball, the former loop being classed as "A" and the latter as "AA."

Pitching of Newhouser, Trout Boosts Detroit Hopes

HAL NEWHOUSER

DIZZY TROUT

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Canadian

Pitching wins pennants and 20-game winners are more or less prerequisites.

The Detroit Tigers, now edging toward the top of the American League standings, appear to have pitching and two 20-game winners in Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout.

Between them, Left Hal and Righthander Dizzy won 14 games by June 1. Newhouser's contribution to that total was eight victories, which is all he could win last season in 36 games.

Trout, a 20-game winner last year, appears to be on his way to another banner season and if Newhouser continues his present pace you'll be seeing the Tigers back in the world series picture they last appeared in after the 1940 season.

FROM BEAUMONT

Both Newhouser and Trout are products of the Tigers' farm at Beaumont in the Texas league. Trout, who was something of a colorful character when he burst into the majors, came up first, having pitched his last minor league ball in the 1938 season.

Newhouser came up from Beaumont the next season.

Newhouser bothered with wildness earlier in his career, has settled down and become one of the Tiger aces. He has a remarkably fast ball and struck out 144 batters last season. At the same time he walked more batters (111) than any other hurler in the league.

Trout began his career as a 18-year-old youth. He broke into minor with Terre Haute, then moved up to A.A. ball with Indianapolis, Toledo was his next stop and then he was sent to the Tigers' Beaumont farm.

TROUT STAR IN 1938

At Beaumont Trout was the pitching star of the league, winning 22 against only six losses in 1938. That brought him to the Motor City and he has stayed on ever since. At first he was used sparingly, pitching only in relief roles. His record was poor until last season when he won his 20 games.

Newhouser, a native of Detroit, began his career with Alexandria in the Evangeline League in 1938. His fire ball was noticeable even at the start and he fanned 107 batters in 96 innings pitched.

One season at Beaumont and he was brought up by the Tigers, although he had no minor league record to mention.

For the past three seasons he has struck out at least 100 or more batters. His best season with the Tigers was in 1940, when he won nine and lost nine.

Army and Navy Capture Games

Soldiers Beat Pat Bay Flyers, 12-3—Sailors Turn Back Tuckers' Nine, 6-4

Finishing on the long end of the scores the Army and Navy copped the two games in last night's Lower Island senior "A" fastball twin bill at Royal Athletic Park. In the opening game the soldiers came from behind to run roughshod over the R.C.A.F. Blue, 12-3, while in the second tilt the sailors, after holding a 5-0 lead in the fourth inning, cut short a rally by the cafe boys to edge out a close 6-4 win.

The Pat Bay gang held a 2-1 lead in the opening frame when they had the bags loaded with nobody out and only managed to squeeze a pair of runners in on Short's liner into centrefield after two went out through a strikeout and a grounder to first, forcing the runner from third at the plate. On two errors, a walk and a single the troops pushed three runners in to take over command and settled further ahead in the fifth with the same number of runs on two hits and two errors.

Making certain of their victory the troops shoved another runner home in the sixth on three hits and weren't satisfied with that, clinched the game in the final inning with a four-run rally off two hits and an error.

MacDonald for the winners was the big sticker, hitting safely three times out of four trips to the plate. Normie Martin went the whole route on the slab for the Army and tossed winning ball, allowing six hits, two bases on balls and sending eight opponents back to the bench swinging. [illegible] on the hill for the losers gave up 11 hits, walked one and whiffed four.

LEADS ATTACK FOR BLUEJACKETS

Hank Monroe was the big bat, led the sailors attack with a perfect night at the plate with three for three. His first [illegible] a [illegible] blow into centrefield that opened the scoring for the tars in the second inning with their first run. During the third inning the Tommy Tucker crew had a golden opportunity to come through with a [illegible] inning having the bags [illegible] with one out but McLennan and Kennedy flied out to [illegible] end the [illegible] without a runner coming home.

[illegible] the [illegible] squad [illegible] session [illegible] two [illegible]. A squeeze play on Watson's bunt, a fielder's choice and an error to third put on a big rally for [illegible] that scored four runs to take a 5-0 lead. After two were out the losers broke into the scoring column coming across with a run on Watson's walk and Billsborough's single. They came within one run of deadlocking the count with three runs and put a big scare into the Navy supporters by having the [illegible] with one out. [illegible] singled and an error by [illegible] by Watson gave them the three scores and the [illegible] 6-4.

There were runners on second and [illegible] a hit might [illegible] the ball game for them [illegible] Billsborough flied out deep into [illegible] to Hussey for the final out of the inning.

Rockland crossed the plate with the last run of the game in the seventh inning for the Navy after getting on with a single and was sacrificed to second. He scored on a single into centre.

Bud Rose worked on the hill for the bluejackets giving up 12 hits, walking [illegible] and striking out the same number. Joe Bryant started out on the mound for the Cafe gang and was yanked in the fourth with one out after giving up five hits, two walks and whiffing a pair. He might have gotten better results with a little better support by his teammates behind. Fred Billsborough went the rest of the route allowing one run, three hits, walked none and struck out two.

During the first game Hobbs, Army second sacker, was rejected from the game by Umpire Art Bird for getting a little rough with Warden, Air Force third baseman, who was sliding into the keystone sack on a steal in the last inning. The official figured he would teach [illegible] to be more gentle and [illegible] to put a stop to things before [illegible] got too far.

Armstrong Stops Davis in Second

Hammering Henry Is Credited With Technical Kayo Early in Fight

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Hammering Henry Armstrong battered Al (Bummy) Davis to the canvas in quick order at Madison Square Garden tonight, scoring a technical knockout in 69 seconds of the second round. Davis was down for counts of eight and nine in the first round.

Bouncing back from a ten-round defeat at the hands of Willie Joyce in Chicago two weeks ago, Armstrong, a 13-to-5 favorite, gave Davis an unmerciful beating before Referee Frank Fullam stopped it.

Each weighed 141½ pounds.

From the opening bell Armstrong was on top of Davis. He whaled away with lefts and rights at close quarters, then [illegible], stepped away and whipped over a left and Davis' knees sagged.

Another left and right and down went Davis for eight. Armstrong swarmed over him again and with a series of left and rights knocked Davis outside the ropes. Davis managed to stagger inside the rope at nine as the bell rang. Many thought he had been counted out.

Davis was helpless in the second round. It was Armstrong left and Armstrong right. Davis went down for four, then two, then sprawled on [illegible]. Referee Fullam didn't bother to count as he waved Armstrong away.

Six players were bracketed [illegible] including Veteran Gene Sarazen [illegible] Darien, Conn., and McSpaden of Philadelphia. Sammy Byrd [illegible] 75, Paul Runyan 75 and Craig Wood 77.

Musgrave, Bowden in Golf Final

Meet Sunday for Oak Bay Honors

It will be A. S. G. Musgrave vs. Wally Bowden in the final for the men's championship of the Victoria Golf Club over the scheduled 36-hole distance for possession of the historic Harvey Combe Bowl, symbolic of the title. In the semi-finals played at the Oak Bay layout recently, Arthur dethroned the defending titleholder and tournament medalist Walter Newcombe in a keenly contested match which finished on the 18th green, while Bill Newcombe succumbed to the fine putting and steady all round game of Bowden in another close battle which was closed out on the 16th green, 3 and 2.

Deadly putting by Musgrave was the highlight of his triumph over Walter Newcombe, while Bowden was deadly around the greens and steady from the tees on to put out Bill Newcombe, who won the Jack Matson Memorial Trophy recently with a neat card of 70 and a net total of 64. With the finalists firing away as they have done in past matches next Sunday's final should be one of the closest held at the layout in years.

REACH FINAL OF FIRST FLIGHT

Ed Horsman and Colonel Fortt will meet for the first flight honors, the former putting out Roger Peachey, 3 and 2, and the latter accounting for John Hart, British ... the merriest match of the whole tournament. The colonel was seven up as the pair headed down the last nine holes. It was then the head of the Coalition Government cut loose with a subpar exhibition of shotmaking. The Premier kept licing Fortt's lead and nearly pulled what appeared to be the impossible out of the fire but he finally dropped the decision on the last green.

Lt.-Col. H. Westmorland beat Doc McNiven in the final of the second flight on the 16th green, while R. J. Burland beat C. L. McLaughlin, 2 and 1, and Harold Haynes downed H. G. Garrett, one up to reach the final of the third flight.

Play Held at C.P.R. Courts

Nine matches were played in the C.P.R. Club tennis tournament yesterday on the Belleville Street courts and four of them went to extra games before decisions were reached. Ten more matches will be run off today.

Results and draw follow:

J. Martyn won from H. Meadows 6-0, 6-2.

P. Holden won from R. Fields 6-4, 6-4.

A. Boulet won from G. Rowebotham, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

D. Shore won from M. Demings 6-2, 6-0.

H. Meadows won from S. Rose-bottom, 0-6, 6-0, 6-0.

J. Williams won from M. Renwick 6-3, 6-4.

A. Collins won from P. Rochette 6-0, 6-3.

G. Gorr-Langton won from L. Hiscock, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

A. Campbell won from F. Laidlaw 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

TODAY'S DRAW

TORONTO, June 15 (CP).—Donedna, owned by C. King, of Hamilton, Ont., won a surprise victory today in the Lakeshore Handicap, seven furlong feature of the inaugural programme of the Long Branch Jockey Club meeting at Dufferin Race Track.

NICK ETTEN, Yank first baseman (right) and Third Baseman Don Savage both tried for a short high popper by Rosar in 11th inning of the Cleveland-New York game at Cleveland. Both missed and the ball hit Savage on the chest, knocking him to his knees. In this photo, the ball is shown on Savage's chest where it landed and his left knee starting to buckle between him. The runner arrived safely at first.

Murdies Defeat Bay Boxla Club: Game On Tonight

Driving through for even goals in the last two periods while holding the opposition to a couple, Murdies came through with a 12-6 victory over the Bays in the Victoria Boxla Association fixture last evening at Stevenson's Memorial Park before a fair turnout of interested fans. The score was 5-4 at half-time for the winners and then they dominated the match in the last two sessions with more than a half a dozen markers. Castner and Ellis were high scorers for the winners with three apiece, while Stinson with a pair, headed the losing sharpshooters.

Hilarious Formby Show at Dominion

Scene From the Latest George Formby Comedy, "Trouble Brewing," Which Starts Today at the Dominion Theatre.

At the Theatres

George Formby At the Dominion

The attraction which opens today at the Dominion Theatre is the latest George Formby picture ... which takes place in a brewery where George and friend Bill are endeavoring to capture a gang of crooks.

For a whole day a battle royal was staged with beer bottles as handy weapons, and another fight took place on a narrow gantry overlooking two enormous vats of foaming beer. Into this George Formby and his leading lady, Googie Withers, were made to fall, whether they liked it or not. There was so much destruction caused during the making of this scene that there was a possibility of closing the studio after the completion of the picture in order to have the plant overhauled.

Humphrey Bogart In Atlas Picture

The same inspired combination of directorial and acting talent that made "Casablanca" such a memorable success has turned out another stirring and timely film for Warner Bros. in "Passage to Marseille," which opens today at the Atlas Theatre. With this story of a dangerous voyage undertaken in the name of faith sustained by courage and concluded only by sheer determination, Warner Bros. adds another title to its long list of current successes.

Humphrey Bogart is again starred in a cast whose roster includes Claude Rains, Sydney Greenstreet, Helmut Dantine and Peter Lorre to mention but a few.

YORK THEATRE Thomas Mitchell and John Qualen think they are typed as an inseparable couple. Just as soon as they finished in Warner Bros.' "Out of the Fog," which is now showing at the York Theatre, they start a picture at RKO, making the fourth in a row in which they are pals before the cameras. "Angels Over Broadway" and "The Long Voyage Home" were the other two.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES A pygmy who fits into a suitcase proves to be the baffling means by which Sherlock Holmes' sinister adversary in "Spider Woman" accomplishes a series of cleverly conceived murders. The latest mystery thriller in Universal's series on the adventures of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famed Baker Street sleuth now is playing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

RIO THEATRE Music, romance and laughter highlight Columbia's gay, new film "Two Senoritas from Chicago," which is playing at the Rio Theatre. Joan Davis, fast-talking comedienne of the Rudy Vallee radio show, and beautiful Jinx Falkenburg, play the leading roles, while the supporting cast is headlined by Ann Savage, Leslie Brooks and Bob Haymes.

CADET THEATRE Acclaimed the find of the year, screen newcomer Sonny Tufts shares starring honors with Olivia de Havilland in "Government Girl," RKO Radio's romantic comedy-drama of wartime Washington, now at the Cadet Theatre. Tufts had only one previous film role to his credit before Director Dudley Nichols chose him for the current part in which he is said to be sensational.

CAPITOL THEATRE A hilarious comedy with plenty of heart pull is now at the Capitol Theatre with Eddie Bracken and Betty Hutton in starring roles. It is Preston Sturges' latest picture for Paramount, "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek," and it tells the very human story of a small-town girl who goes overboard with patriotic zeal and marries a soldier whom she meets for the first time at a dance.

"Life With Father" to Be Here on Saturday

Thirty-one breakfasts per week are eaten by Harry Bannister, Mary Loane and other members of the cast that will be seen in Oscar Serlin's production of "Life With Father" at the Royal Theatre, on Saturday evening, June 17, for the second time in Victoria.

This may seem incredible but it is true. Twenty-four of the matutinal repasts are partaken of during the eight weekly performances of the famous Clarence Day-Howard Lindsay-Russel Crouse comedy, one in each of the three acts. The other seven are their regular morning meals at home or their hotels.

The twenty-four are real breakfasts, too, and not of the fake or prop variety so frequently seen on the stage. This fact is pungently wafted out to the audiences in the aroma of coffee and the unmistakable odors of ham or bacon or kippers or what not. The property man, Frank Grogan, is also the chef and cooks the meals backstage. He is hard put to it to give variety to the menu without sacrificing reality.

And there are eight afternoon teas in "Life With Father" during the course of the week, also. All this saves the actors money. They don't eat so much at other meals.

Edmonton Executives Tour Plants

Edmonton and Victoria business executives compared notes yesterday afternoon, when Edmonton Chamber of Commerce delegates were escorted through Yarrows, Ltd., Victoria Machinery Depot Co., Ltd., Armstrong Brothers, British America Paint Co., Ltd., and Sidney Roofing and Paper Co., Ltd.

[illegible] Chamber of Commerce here accompanied the visitors on the tour of Victoria's industrial section pointing out landmarks and major developments. Norman Yarrows, president of Yarrows Ltd., and F B. McConnell, personnel manager escorted the 24 Edmontonians and accompanying Vancouver officials around No. 1 and No. 2 yards. The visitors were keenly interested in all phases of shipbuilding and in the excellent record of production.

Headed by J. Boyd McBride, K.C., president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, and T. C Clarke president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, the visitors were also taken on a tour of other shipyards and major industries. Logan Mayhew took a small group to the Sidney Roofing and Paper Co., Ltd., plant while Herbert Pendray showed another group through the plant of the British American Paint Co., Ltd.

The visitors were impressed by the large mixers and 2,000 gallon tanks of varnish at the paint plant. G Eldon Hayward, president of Hayward Lumber Company, remarked that he might go home and try to build ships, but paint mixing was too complicated. One interesting mechanical device, the "weatherometer," exposes slabs of painted wood to action of sun's rays, produced in great intensity. A device for showering water on the painted surfaces gives the same wear that [illegible]

Pendray explained that exposure of one month was equal to two and one-half years' exposure to all weathers in actuality, and that toughness of paints could be accurately tested in this manner. An efficient laboratory provides for further improvement in paints and varnishes.

STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF PROVINCIAL VISITS

Commenting on the importance of getting acquainted, Mr. McBride said. "The interdependence of provinces means nothing until we visit one another and see for ourselves what neighboring provinces are accomplishing."

"This is really a return visit to our friends here and in Vancouver who have already seen something of our Edmonton industrial life. Your shipping is of no value after the war, unless you have goods to transport and our agricultural products and minerals would not bring in much wealth if we had not your ships to transport it. Personal visits help us realize how truly inter-dependent we are. The Chamber of Commerce here and in Vancouver and in our city can do a lot to further better co-operation," he declared.

G. D. Kinnaird, C.A., of Edmonton, a member of the group, is a real Alberta product. Born at Athabasca, he has lived in Edmonton all his life. His father was Hudson's Bay factor traveling to the northern posts. Edmonton's future is assured he states. G. E. Value of Gift Lot Is $7.470

The waterfront lot which the City Council proposes to sell to the Family Welfare Association of Greater Victoria for $1 as a site for a proposed clubhouse for aged citizens is assessed at $7.470, it was revealed yesterday at the City Hall.

Situated on the west side of Wharf Street, adjacent to the Imperial Oil station, the property has a 50-foot frontage and is 160 feet deep. Taxes on the lot amount to $276.99. No price has been placed on the property by the lands zoning housing and town planning committee, which handles all sales of city-owned land.

Wilby Ruling To Be Given

VANCOUVER, June 15 (CP)—The Court of Appeal expects to give its decision Friday in the second appeal it has heard in the legal tangle of extradition proceedings against Ralph M. Wilby.

It is the State of New York which appealed this time and from Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane's recent decision that the order of the Canadian Minister of Justice, under which Wilby was turned over to two New York detectives, was invalid.

Wilby alias Alexander Douglas Hume, is wanted in New York on 17 grand larceny charges involving $275,894 he is alleged to have stolen from his former employer, William T. Knott & Co.

Since his arrest in Victoria in March, his case has been before one court or another in various proceedings following Judge H. H. Shandley's recommendation that he be sent back to the United States for trial.

THIRD HABEAS CORPUS HEARING ON MONDAY

Their right to keep him, however, will be disputed Monday when Mr. Justice J. M. Coady hears the third habeas corpus application launched in Wilby's behalf in Supreme Court.

He lost the first one before Chief Justice Wendell Farris, whose decision upholding Judge Shandley's finding was sustained by the Court of Appeal.

Wilby won the second application before Mr. Justice Macfarlane but failed to regain his liberty as he was freed by the United States officers only to be taken over by Victoria police. It was this decision which C. L. Harrison, Victoria city prosecutor and counsel for the State of New York, has just appealed.

Mr. Harrison asked the appellate judges today to direct that Victoria authorities hang onto Wilby if the state's appeal is dismissed.

Mr. Justice O'Halloran suggested that Victoria police have good authority to hold Wilby since Chief Justice Farris and the Court of Appeal confirmed Judge Shandley's decision.

Gordon S. Wismer, counsel with W. H. M. Haldane for the prisoner, opposed the Appeal Court making any direction that Wilby be kept in custody.

Edmonton Men Club Guests

Edmonton Chamber of Commerce delegates, on a one-day visit to Victoria, were guests of honor of the Rotary Club at a luncheon meeting yesterday in the Empress Hotel. [illegible] president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, accompanied the visitors, who were introduced by John V. Johnson.

J. Boyd McBride, K.C., spoke of "the warmth, geniality and cordiality which the visitors had received on arrival in Victoria." He referred to the British traditions upheld in this province, remarking that similar legacies were enjoyed in the adjoining province. Mr. McBride emphasized the importance of Chambers of Commerce assisting their Governments to cope with anything that would advance the interests of the two provinces. He paid tribute to the work of Edmonton flyers, especially "Punch" Dickens, "Wop" May and Grant McConachie, whose "bush-flying" aided the subsequent opening of the northern airfields.

Reginald T. Rose, executive secretary of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, and president of that city's Rotary Club, declared. "We should develop fellowship between the Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade and Rotary Clubs to our advantage, and to the advantage of those we are delegated to serve."

Mr. Rose told his audience to think in future of Alberta in terms of the five letters which came into prominence with the building of the Alaska Highway, "Alcan." These he broke down into "A," agriculture, mentioning a $50,000,000 livestock value in Edmonton annually. "L," the speaker said, represented lumber interests, with 250,000,000 board feet per annum. "C" stood for coal, which was very important in Alberta, containing as it did one-seventh of coal reserve, and "N" stood for other natural resources, including oil, minerals and salt wells, which produced 25,000 tons per annum.

Thomas Clarke, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, brought greetings from the Terminal City, and expressed appreciation of the interest shown by Premier John Hart; Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Trade and Industry, and E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister.

Mr. Harman, on behalf of the visitors, thanked J. Little, Rotary president, and members for their hospitality.

G. W. Malcolm and G. N. Berry were introduced as new club members.

Appreciate Visit To Pacific Coast

Edmonton's Chamber of Commerce delegates and other prominent business executives were officially welcomed yesterday by a group of Victorians headed by G. Hamilton Harman, president of the Chamber of Commerce here. Replying to the welcome address, J. Boyd McBride, K.C., president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, said his party had already formed a new appreciation of the tremendous war effort of the Pacific Coast. T. C. Clarke, president of Vancouver Board of Trade, urged closer co-operation between the two provinces. He said both provinces had already exchanged much valuable information and were working closely together to bring about a higher standard of living. J. V. Johnson, past president of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, also spoke for greater co-operation.

W. E. Payne, executive of the Vancouver Board of Trade, who also accompanied the party, said it was of utmost importance that British Columbia and Alberta realize their interdependence.

Premier John Hart received the visitors later in the morning and Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Mines, and Trade and Industry, also conferred with the Edmonton party. Following this, they were guests at a Rotary luncheon at the Empress Hotel, and toured shipyards and factories in the afternoon. Several Victoria businessmen and members of the Chamber of Commerce placed their cars at the disposal of the visitors for the tour.

Among Victorians who greeted the visitors and escorted them on the afternoon tour were R. H. B. Ker, R. Logan Mayhew, W. T. Straith, K.C., M.L.A., Harold Husband, Kenneth Drury, Herbert Pendray, George I. Warren, J. H. Beatty, Walter Miles, Harold Diggon, W. J. Clark, G. H. Brisco, manager Northern Electric, E. D. An order has been distributed to all army units in Pacific Command repeating standing orders to all personnel that municipal traffic by-laws must be observed, according to a letter received yesterday by Police Chief H. V. W. Pecknold, Esquimalt, from army headquarters, Vancouver.

Yesterday morning Col. K. W. Hicks, acting brigadier, Victoria area and Captain Barry German, R.C.N., naval officer in command here, assured Reeve Thomas Hadfield and Chief Pecknold that disciplinary action would be taken if traffic regulations were broken by army or navy d[illegible]

The issuance of the order and the meetings yesterday followed the death of two Esquimalt boys last week after they were struck by an army truck.

Col. Hicks and Captain German told the reeve and police chief that personnel had long been in possession of standing orders on observance of traffic laws.

The letter from Vancouver unsolicited by Esquimalt, was sent after a meeting on Tuesday between staff officers and the president of Vancouver Traffic and Safety Council. It said that headquarters "would do all in its power" to see that all regulations were observed.

In Esquimalt, as in all municipalities, a 30-mile-an-hour speed limit is in force under the Motor Vehicles Act. An army transport officer said yesterday that some types of army vehicles are restricted to lower speeds.

Army Graduates Are Entertained

Members of the first graduating class of the Canadian Technical Training Corps, upon completion of extensive training in automotive work and basic military subjects, were guests at a dinner in their honor at Topaz Avenue Camp last night.

These young soldiers enlisted in the Canadian Active Army more than a year ago, and at that time were between 17 and 18 years of age. All British Columbia boys, they represent the first group of C.T.T.C. tradesmen to graduate in the Pacific Command.

Classes for these men, which have been held for the past 12 months, were conducted by the War Emergency Training programme, represented by Lt.-Col. F. Fairey, and the Canadian Active Army. Responsible for their over-all training is Capt. W. G. Black, G.S.O. 3, Trade Training, while Capt. R. C. Grant is in charge of the training camp on Topaz Avenue.

The men have been granted annual furloughs, and will then proceed to Canadian Army Trade School at Hamilton, Ont., for further training. Other classes conducted at the local centre include machinists and electricians, who will graduate next Autumn.

Speakers at the dinner were Capt. Black, Lt.-Col. Fairey, Major R. R. MacNaughton, officer commanding No. 11 Vocational Training School, Vancouver, and Capt. Grant.

Graduates attending the affair included Privates W. H. Anchor, J. H. Burchell, A. C. Cade, E. J. FitzGerald, C. P. Heavenor, A. D. Hepburn, R. D. Hood, H. E. Mangelson, A. R. Monds, J. C. McDonald, N. G. McGregor, R. M. Sabbe, S. L. Snow, R. H. Stephen, and E. E. Thomas.

Jukes Gives Views

From the Social Credit standpoint a C.C.F. Government in Saskatchewan will mean only a change of control of the monetary system and not a new system, declared Major A. H. Jukes, Saanichton, prominent Island member of the Social Credit Association, last night.

He believes that a C.C.F. Provincial Government will be in the position of a Labor-majority London County Council. He said it could only increase taxation to bring about reforms that it proposed.

Real Estate Board

Rental control regulations will be discussed by the Real Estate Board of Victoria during a meeting in Speorer's dining-room at 12.30 o'clock this afternoon.

LEGION BRANCH MEETING

Tuberculous Veterans, Branch, No. 13 of the Canadian Legion, will hold a regular meeting in the association rooms on Tuesday at 8 o'clock. Legion convention reports will be submitted and all members are urged to attend.

Ship Mishap Described

The Canadian Hydrographic Service vessel William J Stewart struck Ripple Rock on Sunday while passing another vessel it was learned yesterday

Proceeding north and west around a western cape of Quadra Island into the narrow part of Seymour Narrows, the Stewart came into view of a southbound vessel of the coastwise service and swung to port in the 600-yard wide channel between the island and the rock

It was 2 04 o'clock in the afternoon when she struck and 2 35 [illegible] Plumper Bay under her own power and was grounded near the beach She foundered just as she reached shallow water

Most members of her crew of about 60 including seven women are in Victoria, staying for the present on the houseboat Pender at the Transport Department wharf near Johnson Street Bridge

An official of Pacific Salvage Company said in Vancouver yesterday that salvaging of the Stewart would take about two weeks because she is resting at a 40-degree starboard list Dredging is being done on her port side before she is to be lifted to an upright position Then she will be repaired and raised The bay is sheltered for easy salvage operations

H D Parizeau, officer in charge of the hydrographic service here said last night that no marine inquiry was made into accidents to Dominion Government vessels A report would be made to the Department of Transport

An Ottawa official this week said that an investigation was being made.

A fireman of the Stewart expressed the opinion that if an investigation were made officials should go to the scene and see it at low tide

He said half the deck of the vessel as it lies in Plumper Bay is awash at low tide and only her masts and upper structure visible at high tide

Members of the crew report that there was no panic when the vessel struck they knew at once what had happened They praised the quick work of Capt J J Moore and Chief Engineer Ernest Betteridge in beaching her

Most of the crew Mr Lock said succeeded in saving their personal belongings, but much valuable equipment was lost The vessel's engines and other machinery will need stripping down and complete overhauling

Turn Down Berry Price Extension

The present ceiling price on strawberries will not be extended beyond the end of this week the Wartime Prices and Trade Board at Ottawa yesterday informed W C Kersey head of Vancouver Island [illegible] however, Mr. Kersey said last night that he believed the growers still had a chance to obtain the extension they have asked

According to ceilings set in May, prices per crate to the end of this week are: to shipper $3 48, to wholesaler, $4 08, to retailer, $5 28

If the ceiling price is lowered on Monday as ordered, parallel prices will be $2 88, $3 24 and $3 96, and strawberries will sell at 16 1-2 cents instead of the present 22 cents per box

[illegible] very disappointed at the contents of the Ottawa telegram After a conference in Vancouver on Monday they were confident that an extension would be granted

A statement yesterday that all Vancouver Island and Fraser Valley strawberries would be sold for canning or jam manufacture under the lower ceilings was from a Mainland source, he said.

For the past two weeks berries [illegible] at the $4 08 price Whether Saanich shippers next week will continue to sell them at the $3 24 price has not been decided

Last year shippers obtained an average season price of $4 a crate A crate contains 24 boxes

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP).—Attention of the grain market today was focused on the outcome of House-approved legislation seeking to guarantee parity prices for farm products and the trade was bullish.

Wheat and rye futures sold as much as five cents higher, the limit permitted by Board of Trade regulations, and oats followed the upturn.

A new wave of buying, much of it short covering, ran the market into stop-loss orders. There were some commission house sales of wheat at the high spots. There was a tendency to regard the parity legislation as inflationary and to withdraw offerings from the market when the buying move got under way.

Wheat closed 2 1-4 to 3 cents higher than yesterday, July $1.61; Oats were 1-8 to 1 1-8 higher, July 7[illegible]; Rye was [illegible] to 3 3-8 higher, July $1.09 1-2 to $1.09 3-4. Barley was 1 1-4 to 2 cents higher, July $1.19 1-2.

Dividends announced today included:

Pend Oreille Mines & Metals Co., 8 cents a share in United States funds, payable July 28 to shareholders of record June 30.

Hudson's Bay Company, a half-year dividend of 2 1-2 per cent to preference shareholders of register June 15, payable July 1. Preference transfer books closed from June 15 to 30 inclusive.
